

Army May Be Decimated, One in Ten Paying Penalty for Participation in Short Lived Rebellion at Vera Cruz

MENRO CITY, Oct. 23.—(General Kelly) Mayor G. L. ...

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 23.—General Felix Diaz, Colonel Jose Diaz Ordez, and all the officers of the rebellious troops and marines will be haled immediately before a court martial and doubtless will suffer the death penalty. Orders have been issued for the convening of the court, which will be presided over by General Belknon.

General Diaz, although not now a member of the army, is accountable in such a court under the law which provides for such a trial of any civilian under like circumstances.

The soldiers of the rebellious troops will be decimated—ordered to be hung—executed. They will be chosen by lot to pay the penalty for all.

This information was imparted officially tonight.

Without knowledge of this, the other was published with its terms of all were added.

At Manzanillo the news was so in that during the first firing, Colonel Ordez of the General First Infantry, was taken prisoner by Diaz with his troops in the rebellion. Diaz disappeared after a revolution and he is being made.

The right officers have been captured and more will be.

Revolt Laid to Rest.
The collapse of the final movement of the revolution a year after its inception, with a minimum of fighting and bloodshed, has created the greatest surprise here. The administration circles, where optimism has been the keynote since the beginning, the outcome is regarded as the highest possible indication of the confidence always expressed in the loyalty of the army.

General Park, after General Croves, has been regarded as the man who could wield the greatest influence over the army and the people generally. His addition, ending in a fashion only slightly less prominent than that of November 1, December, removes the influence of one who had loomed on the political horizon.

Creates Little Excitement.

The troops created little demonstration in the capital. There was no outward show of station or of respect toward the government, which indicated that they were indifferent. They early reported that all the officers involved in the movement stood an excellent chance of condemnation to death within a few hours.

The troops under General Blanguet came here from the north last night and proceeded immediately to Vera Cruz, got no further than Orizaba. They have received orders to return, and will have soon for the north to resume the campaign against the forces of General Huerta. They have been dispatched to expand and restore order. All other troops will be transferred to the points from which they were drawn for the Vera Cruz campaign.

STEADILY INCREASING

A great interest in the Progressive cause, the demand of the people for representative government and clean politics was evidenced last night at an enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. John Gillies, 2121 North Tejon street.

The earnestness of the speakers and the attention they received from their auditors were characteristic of a Progressive meeting. Many voters of Mrs. Gillies' district were present, and in the discussion of the campaign issues they denoted their appreciation of the Progressive movement for the elimination of party bosses and the establishment of a government by and for the people.

The principal address was made by Clarence P. Dodge, who stated that in a trip of two days in and around

VERA CRUZ CAPTURED BY FEDERAL FORCES

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Dec. 24. (AP)—The park of General Fox, the brother-in-law of the exiled president, has been abandoned. The town of Vera Cruz, which is occupied with about 2,000 soldiers for several days, was captured by the federal forces today. The casualties were few.

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 24. (AP)—The Public, Florentino and Union City, he found the ride sleeping wherever they lay for hours and the Progressive party for the day. The Progressive principles have been neglected by the Republican and Democratic parties, he said.

"And there is only one chance to get these principles for justice for all the people into effect, and that is through the United States party, the Progressive party," he said.

Judge Kerr repeated his declaration

ing him the same punishment for the same crime. The American colonist, entered by Cruz from the north and south. There was slight opposition to their advance. Colonel Hastings, with less than 50 men, captured General Felix Diaz, whose name was at police headquarters, refused to join his command.

The revolutionists in the barracks, the prisoners surrendered. There was no firing, not until the last man was killed. However, those of weak nerves seem to be trying to escape.

The killed and wounded number less than 100. No prisoners were hurt. The soldiers being continued after the rebels entered the town.

He made was that he might be accused of the command of the revolution. He was popular both to the people and to the army.

John H. Wren said that the point of a last case was that he had defied the revolution and was a traitor. He said that he was a traitor.

W. W. Williams, a leader of the army of the Republic, said that the revolution and the people are the same. He said that the revolution is the same as the people and the people are the same as the revolution.

Colonel Roosevelt has been resting well since his return home, and is now in his editorial work. He spent a short time at Sagamore Hill, where he has been permitted to remain for a time, and even moved about the house a bit, but Mrs. Roosevelt kept a close watch on him to keep him from overexerting himself.

He ate three big meals and it was said that he was in fine spirits and appeared to be in the best of condition, having more strength than at any previous time since he was shot.

By tomorrow he expects to be able to do some work.

Col. Cecil Lyon of Texas, the ex-president of the American Association of Canadian tours, is stopping at Saxe-mans Hill during the period of convalescence. He and Colonel Roosevelt was improving so rapidly that he expected to be back at work soon.

In addition to the speech which Colonel Roosevelt is to make in New York on Monday, he will also address his neighbors at a rally in Oyster Bay, the next before election day, to propose for his second presidency. He brought the question of a third speech to the attention of his wife and said he would deliver it if he felt it was necessary.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to make a public appearance at the annual dinner of the Associated Press, which is associated with Colonel Roosevelt.

DISMISS LURIE CASE

Charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, preferred against William Lurie, were dismissed in Justice Gowdy's court, yesterday. When he was defendant in a money demand suit, Meyer Novick recently testified in Justice Dunnington's court that Lurie was his partner in a clothing store on West Huerfano street. A few days later, in Justice Gowdy's court, he denied that Lurie had any interest in the firm. It appears that the latest controversy started over collection, each claiming the right to receive accounts due. When Lurie obtained $3 from a woman as payment on a suit of clothes, Novick caused his arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

TELEPHONE GIRLS TO GIVE DANCE TUESDAY

Within the last few days the voices of the telephone operators have lost their stereotyped, hardened quality, and are full of pretty little trills that seem to make the answers come more quickly than ever before. The girls on the information desks have learned to whistle the "Hello, People, People Hello" song from "Havana." They are rearranging it into waltz time, too.

To begin all over again. The telephone girls have a club of their own.

known as the Alta club. It is in smooth running order now and the girls are planning to give club dances (every once in a while) from now on. The first of these comes next Tuesday evening, October 23. It will be held at the Acacia hotel, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, and Fink's orchestra will play. Friends of the girls will be invited, and they expect to have about 50 couples present.

DIAZ AND FOLLOWERS

finco reported from Vera Cruz. Although leaders admit that no private advice has been received regarding the day's events, it is not believed that the Diaz movement has failed so soon. Orozco's agents here declare that it will make no difference with the progress of the revolutionary movement in the north of Mexico, and that still other federal leaders are expected to join the rebels.

WASHINGTON ASTONISHED AT NEWS OF DOWNFALL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—News of the capture of Vera Cruz by Mexican federal forces, and the surrender of Gen. Diaz and his staff, with practically no show of resistance, was received with astonishment in official circles here. It is generally believed this event marks the complete suppression of what had been looked upon as the beginning of a general rebellion involving entirely new elements. A brief cablegram to the state department from American Consul Canada confirmed the report of the capture of Vera Cruz by General Beltrán. There was some fighting on the outskirts of the town, but only enough to justify Captain Hughes of the cruiser Des Moines in offering medical assistance for the wounded, which was gratefully accepted.

Strength Overrated. The sudden collapse of the defense, after such elaborate preparations had been made for a general battle, is taken as evidence that the strength of the revolutionary sentiment in the city of Vera Cruz has been very much overrated, and it was confined closely to the comparatively small garrison that flocked to General Diaz's standard, principally for sentimental motives.

Already officials and army officers here are speculating as to the fate of Diaz and the other officers of the Mexican regular army who were led into this uprising. From the extremely courteous language in which General Beltrán, the government commander, couched his demand for the surrender of Vera Cruz, it is surmised that the captives will be treated with leniency, although, under strict military law, they would be subject to the death penalty. It is rather expected that they will be imprisoned in the city of Mexico, as was General Reyes.

Three Rebellions Still On. The downfall of the Diaz movement leaves three rebellions in operation in Mexico, headed, respectively, by Zapata, Aguilar and Orozco. It is presumed the government forces employed against Diaz will be concentrated upon Aguilar, who is likely to be driven back into the mountains; that the pursuit of the small bands into which Orozco's force has broken up will be resumed, and that the only really serious undertaking confronting the federal army will be in connection with the Zapata rebellion.

The navy department has much pleased with the manner in which Captain Hughes of the Des Moines has handled the situation at Vera Cruz. It will be relieved shortly by Commander A. T. Long, who is about to leave Washington for Vera Cruz, for that purpose.

Colorado Springs People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them

Disordered kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions may be dark, contain sediment.

Passages are sometimes frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is often present day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells may occur.

Weakened kidneys should receive quick help.

"Ding delay" is a special kidney remedy.

Don's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Colorado Springs evidence proves their worth.

Mr. L. E. Elford, 1014 E. Cimarron St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We have kept a supply of Don's Kidney Pills in our house for years, procuring them from the Butcher Drug Co., and have found that they are unequalled for backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. We would not be without this preparation."

BECKER'S FATE INTO HANDS JURY TODAY

Opposing Counsel Spar in Summing Up Case Before Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The fate of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, will rest with the jury tomorrow. Counsel for both sides completed today their summing up, and all that remains to close the case is Justice Goff's charge to the jury.

Becker heard himself characterized by John F. McIntyre, his chief counsel as the victim of a conspiracy plotted by Jack Rose, "the head of the assassins," and by Assistant District Attorney Moss as "the brains behind the gunmen, with a tremendous motive for murder."

The defense centered its attack on the state's case almost wholly on Rose's testimony, which Mr. McIntyre denounced as "unworthy of belief because Jack Rose testified to save himself from the electric chair." He characterized the corroborating witnesses as "crooks and murderers;" the state's case, he summed up with a declaration that District Attorney Whitman, "actuated by ambition," had "fathered a prosecution framed up by crooks."

Opposing Counsel Spar. Assistant District Attorney Moss repeated the implication that Mr. Whitman had any other motive than duty for seeking the conviction of Becker, and denounced "the vilification of counsel for the defense" as revealing the "desperate straits to which he had come."

Mr. Moss accused Mr. McIntyre of misrepresenting the evidence to the jury, impelling Becker's attorney to jump to his feet and shake his fist in the face of his opponent as he uttered an indignant denial.

"If Becker did not have a motive for the murder, why did he want to get an affidavit from Rose two days after Rosenthal was dead?" Mr. Moss asked. "The truth is Becker did not know how things would go. He saw the possibility that Rose might be an affidavit from Rose to silence him. He set Rose to swear his own life away, so he couldn't testify against him."

"Throws Pal to Dogs." Sam Schepps, Mr. Moss' conceded, was an accessory after the fact, but had come forward to testify that Becker had thrown "his pal, Rose, to the dogs."

"Why," the prosecutor asked, "if Becker had not intended in the murder, did he visit a police station, where Rosenthal's body was lying? Becker was off duty. What reason did he have to go there?"

Mr. Moss said that the defense had dwelt throughout the trial upon an alleged conspiracy to murder Rosenthal, "founded on the hatred of the underworld," but had not introduced a shred of proof that such a conspiracy had existed.

Answering Mr. McIntyre's declaration that the four gunmen, yet to be tried, might go free, even if Becker were convicted, Mr. Moss said:

Need Not Fear Gunmen. "Have no fear that you will ever meet these four men on Broadway. We have not disclosed our entire case against them yet, and you need not be afraid of meeting Rose, Weber and Vidler, there after the trial is over."

"The friends," the spokesman of the underworld, will take care of that."

For the character of his witnesses Mr. Moss offered no apology. He declared, however, that if the district attorney had not accepted the testimony of the four informers, Rose, Weber and Vidler, and Schepps, all 10 men connected with the case would be at large.

Mr. Moss denied that Rose, Vidler and Weber had been given immunity. "Their stipulations do not protect them from prosecution if they fired a shot," he said. "To say that these men are testifying to save their lives is to before the issue."

Becker's Alibi, State Victory. Frederick Hawley, the newspaper reporter put on by the defense to prove an alibi for Becker, in connection with his alleged meeting with Rose and Weber the morning of the murder, was declared by Mr. Moss to have been really a witness for the state.

He testified that he telephoned Becker, Mr. Moss said, "and told him of the murder. Jack Rose testified that when he telephoned Becker, Becker had told him that he had heard of the murder from a newspaper man. There's corroboration from the defense's own witness."

Mr. Moss denounced the defense for characterizing Sam Schepps as a murderer. "Schepps never premeditated the killing of Rosenthal," he said, "but after it was over, and he learned about the murder, he committed the crime of hiding. He was an accessory after the fact, which is a separate crime from murder, and not punishable in the same degree."

Rose Swore Life Away. "Rose wrote to Schepps, his pal, and said, 'The electric chair stares us in the face. The only one to get out from under was Becker. He deserted me like a dirty dog.'"

"How did Becker get out from under?" I will tell you. He got Rose to swear his life away. He got him to make an affidavit clearing him (Becker) of any motive for killing Rosenthal, and fixed it so Rose couldn't testify against him. Then Becker turned down message after message from Rose, and Rose saw that Becker had deserted him, and that he, and not Becker, was facing the electric chair. That's why he wrote to Sam Schepps to help him out."

CLARK DEFENDS THE DEMOCRATIC PLANK ON TARIFF QUESTION

DENVER, Oct. 23.—Champion Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, completed the first of a two-day speaking campaign in Colorado with an address tonight before an audience that filled the municipal auditorium. Large crowds greeted him at La Junta and Rocky Ford where he spoke during the day. In all three speeches Speaker Clark gave his principal attention to a discussion of the tariff.

"I must admit that Woodrow Wilson was not my first choice for nomination," said the speaker here tonight. "But after his nomination he became as much my candidate as any man's between the two oceans. In regard to Governor Wilson, it well can be said that it is better to be born lucky than rich. I never before saw two Republicans work so hard for a Democrat as Taft and Wilson."

"Taft and Wilson agree that the tariff is the overshadowing issue in this campaign. Roosevelt has ideas all his own. It is constantly asserted that the Democrats seek tariff legislation that would injure business. This is the most monstrous lie since Ananias and Sapphira had their in starved land transaction."

"The Republicans claim that a high tariff is necessary to protect infant industries, but some of their infant industries are 123 years old and it is high time they were divorced from the public crib and made to walk alone."

Speaker Clark reviewed the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and declared the support given it by President Taft had turned the public against him and assured his defeat at the polls in November.

Pomerene Not Satisfied.

This letter, Mr. Hogan said, would be presented to the committee tomorrow for the record. Mr. Perkins, when he was on the stand, was asked to furnish the committee with any correspondence between himself and Senator Beveridge, and he agreed to do so. Mr. Pomerene desires to pursue the Beveridge matter further, and telegrams have been sent to several witnesses, asking when they can appear. Senator Beveridge has wired he cannot reach Washington before Saturday.

Further action of the committee will depend entirely on the immediate availability of the witnesses.

FRIENDS OF INDIAN MEET IN NEW YORK

Chancellor Brown of New York University Delivers Stirring Address

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The thirteenth annual Lake Mohonk conference of Friends of the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples convened the first of its three day sessions here this morning.

The initial session was largely attended, some of the most notable of

CHANCELLOR E. E. BROWN of New York University

American advocates for the alleviation of conditions among racial dependents being present. Among these were Robert G. Valentine, United States commissioner of Indian affairs; George Vaux, Jr., and Warren K. Moorhead, of the United States board of Indian commissioners; Governor Dix of New York, and Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown of New York university.

Indian welfare was the leading topic of discussion. Dr. Brown opened the business of the convention with an address on "The Need of Protection for Indian Property."

The chancellor called attention to poverty of the Indian of the present day, drawing a striking comparison between the present reservations of the red man and the boundless territory that was formerly his. The doctor stated that there was as much need for the conservation of the rights of the Indian as there was for the conservation of national resources. He dealt extensively with the late Indian frauds and called attention to the inroads that were yearly being made upon Indian territory by designing white men.

Two Men of Same Name in Hospital; One Dies and Mixup Follows

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Two men, named Charles E. Wilson, ill at the same time at the county hospital here, became mixed when one of them died, several days ago.

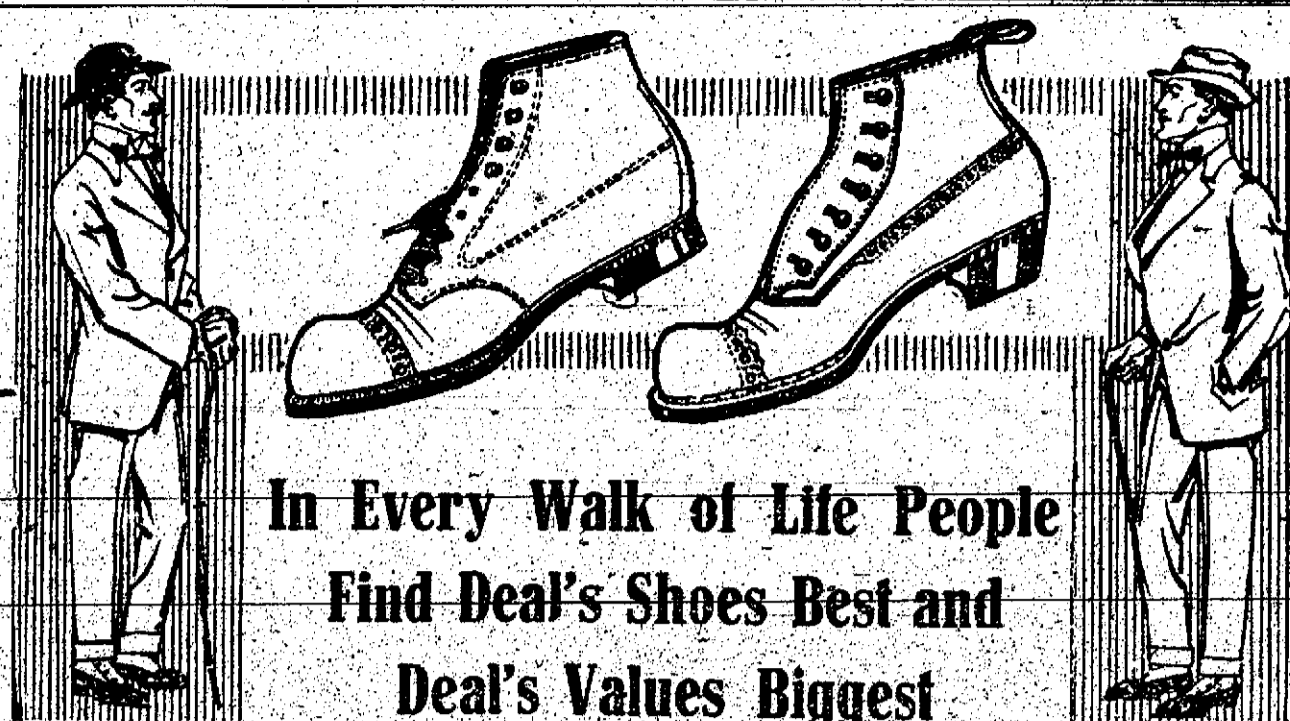

The supposedly dead Charles E. Wilson walked into a hotel where he had formerly lived and was surprised when the landlady faintly, "At the same time the widow of the other Wilson sent word to the hospital that she was coming today to attend her husband, reported to her as convalescent."

Old-Time Remedy, a Scalp Tonic, Darkens the Hair Naturally

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days, you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone, and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair! If it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out, get a fifty-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it, under guarantee, that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agents, Robinson Drug Co. Adv.

Servians Capture Fort.

HELGRADE, Servia, Oct. 23.—It is officially announced that the third Serbian army today captured the town of Novipazar after fierce fighting and great sacrifices.

The Turks are retreating from Kumanova, but the town is still in their hands. The Servians have surrounded it, although the Turks hold an important position dominating the town. The second contingent of wounded, numbering 180, arrived here this afternoon. Big crowds cheered as the transport wagons passed. All the schools are filled up as hospitals.

Battle Wages All Day.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 23.—Heavy fighting continued all day along the line from Adrianople to Kirk-Kiliseh, but a decisive result is not expected until tomorrow evening. Both sides are displaying the utmost bravery and determination.

The press correspondents left here today by special train, and are proceeding to the frontier. The foreign military attaches will leave for the front on Friday.

Heavy Fighting Reported.

The situation on the various frontiers, as announced tonight, shows heavy fighting northwest of Kirk-Kiliseh, and east of the Tugdema valley; engagements around Kirdehah, and offensive tactics by the Turks in Macedonia in the direction of Koenstendil, from Djumbah to Ezeripalanka.

The Montenegrin forces are endeavoring to reach Sutari from the west of the lake, but the Turks have received reinforcements and the town is believed to be out of danger, while on the east of the lake the Montenegrins are inactive. Severe fighting is being reported from Pristina.

TENNIS AN ANCIENT GAME

From the New York Sun.

By many people tennis is thought to be an essentially modern game, but in reality it is probably one of the most ancient ball games, and was a sport long before cricket was dreamed of. Though undoubtedly not existing during the Arthurian period, tennis, or as it was called, "tenec," is mentioned in the Arthurian legends, written in 1590 and the knights of the round table were pictured as engaged in the sport when the weather was too hot for tourneys or jousts.

From a simple beginning, and through many centuries, the intricacy of the game's rules has been developed. Its present name seems to be a corruption of the term "tenec," which the server used in the same way "ready" is called out now. In the beginning the name was jeu de paume, taken from the fact that the ball was struck with the hands instead of with a racket. Later the hand was incased in a glove, and still later the glove was covered with strings, running criss-cross, from which condition there was but a short step to the short-handled racket.

In feudal times the courts were merely open grass plots, and not till

Strongest evidence obtained by state today in its attempt to show that a conspiracy was hatched this afternoon when J. C. Kerr, a former lumber worker, testified he attended a meeting of the timber workers union, near the strike was on, and the riot, and that Covington, of New Orleans, a Socialist, one of the speakers, said:

"Urged Use of Guns. We must win this strike if we do it with guns." I testified that he heard President of the timber workers, when armed men joined his party, as were marching to Bon Ami, shout those guns down. The men in the party told the news to bring them along. He added he men kept their guns.

REBELS TAKE AMERICAN MINING PROPERTIES

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 23.—Rebels have taken two important American mining properties in Mexico, according to definite advices received today by representatives here of the two companies. Most important is the capture by rebels of the American Smelting and Refining property at Yeladana, state of Durango. Company property includes one of the largest smelters in Mexico. The property is supported largely by Kansas capital.

Also local representatives of the Cortigan-Kinney interests of Pittsburgh, Pa., learned today of the seizure of the Rio Tinto mine, located in the state of Chihuahua. Employees of the property were driven off, the company stores looted, and the pumping plant destroyed.

HOW HARVESTER TRUST WAS FORMED, ELICITED BY GOVT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—When the International Harvester company, the so-called harvester "trust," was formed in 1902, its organization was made up of directors, some of whom held office not longer than 24 hours, according to several witnesses who testified today when hearings were begun here in the government suit to dissolve the company. Their connection, however, was long enough, the testimony ran, for them to aid in the purchase of independent companies.

One of these directors was R. E. M. Cravath, who resigned after one day's directorship. He testified that his financial assistance, to the "trust," was the purchase of the Minnie Harvester company for nearly one million dollars, this company later passing into the control of the "trust."

Abram M. Hyatt, vice president of the Lincoln Trust company, testified he was a director for a day only while E. M. P. Miller, a Wall street broker, said he was the first president of the Harvester company, although he had never been in the business, nor held connection with a harvester company prior to his election.

Connection Brief.

One of the witnesses said George W. Perkins suggested his election, but he did not recall who asked him to resign, while other witnesses said they could not remember who suggested either their election or resignation.

Mr. Miller said he was sure he held office as president longer than 24 hours. He had never expected, he declared, to have permanent connection with the company.

Mr. Cravath, a Wall street banker, said that when elected a director he expected to continue as a member of the board but the very next day he was asked to resign. In purchasing the Minnie Harvester company, he said, he did not act independently, but at the instruction of others, and that he thought he borrowed $945,000 from the Bankers Trust company with which to purchase the stock.

Joseph E. Cotten, Jr., a Wall street lawyer, who said he attended to matters of detail in the incorporation of the company, testified that at a meeting of stockholders in August, 1902, he held proxies for about 99 per cent of the shares, and voted them under instructions from the voting trustees, who, he said, were George W. Perkins, Cyrus H. McCormick and Charles Deering.

THREE PARTIES ARE NOW CLOSING UP CAMPAIGNS

Thousands of Dollars Required to Carry on Work National Committees

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Directors of the three chief national political parties held widely different views as to the best method of running a presidential campaign, according to information obtained from headquarters here showing where hundreds of thousands of dollars have gone this year.

Magazine, newspaper, billboard poster and street card advertising, trusting upon the voter the name, achievements and promises of the president, has been the chief and most expensive feature of the Republican national committee's campaign.

The production and circulation of literature, arguments and new letters of an educational nature for which no money had to be paid for publication has absorbed the greater part of the cash collected by the Progressive national committee.

A general political campaign on one-half of the total expenditures devoted to advertising and publicity work and fully one-fifth given to the traveling expenses of speakers, candidates and special organizers has characterized the activities of the Democratic national committee.

Summary Due Soon.

Until the preliminary expenditures statements are made public late this week a summary of the expenditures from the Republican and Progressive committee will not be available.

A rough estimate given out at Democratic headquarters, showing where approximately $550,000 has gone, since the presidential fight opened in July furnished a basis, however, for comparison as to methods in the different political campaigns, in a campaign which has been conducted more nearly upon lines of business efficiency than any that have preceded.

Of the total Democratic expenditures about $320,000 will cover the activities of the "publicity end." It is said: This includes $50,000 for direct advertising in publications, $50,000 for "boiler plate" of the news service furnished to small country newspapers and a large sum spent in publishing, mailing and circulating literature.

The amounts spent by the Republican committee for the direct advertising work is not yet available, but Secretary James A. Reynolds stated yesterday that one-fifth of the entire amount spent by the Republicans has gone into advertising contracts, with weekly magazines and one-fourth into poster and billboard advertising. The committee has followed a budget of estimates, prepared by Mr. Reynolds at the beginning of the campaign in which over three-fifths of the total was set aside for advertising purposes of all kinds.

The Republican committee made a six weeks' advertising contract with certain weekly magazines including agricultural papers and newspaper Sunday supplements. Another advertising contract made by Mr. Reynolds covers 22,551 billboards in states from coast to coast and still another contract provides for the display of advertising slides in 1,200 moving picture houses throughout the country. The Democratic committee has also patronized the moving pictures and has spent about $5,000 in this form of advertising. The Progressive committee on the other hand has received money from certain moving picture concerns, photographers and phonograph companies for the privilege of reproducing views and remarks of Colonel Roosevelt.

Campaign Buttons.

The Democratic national committee spent about $20,000 for campaign buttons and the Republican committee about $15,000. Governor Wilson's special trains, expenses of other speakers' tours and of national committeemen and like traveling expenses have cost the Democratic committee $50,000. Neither President Taft or Vice President Sherman has cost the Republican campaign committee anything in the way of traveling expenses. The Progressives have paid out substantial sums for this class of campaign work, Colonel Roosevelt's western tour having cost about $9,000.

WILSON SPEAKS AT CHURCH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 23.—In the solemn atmosphere of a church, apart from the noise of political demonstration, to which he has been accustomed during the last two months, Gov. Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech tonight. It was virtually a sermon on the value of church organization, and was the principal address at the exercises celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church of Trenton.

"The church is one of the many expressions of the permanent side of life," he said. "This church, through its 200 years, has witnessed the birth and death of political parties. It has seen everything change except the search for God, and every community should realize that the search of God should take preference over everything else."

"I know that the salvation of the community and the salvation of the state is to be found only by men who are greater than their material. A man who is indifferent to his own success, but confident only of the cause he represents, has the hosts of almighty God behind him."

The city will really make money by this arrangement, because attendants at the comfort stations will no longer be necessary.

DIAZ AND FOLLOWERS

franco reported from Vera Cruz. Although leaders admit that no private advice has been received regarding the day's events, it is not believed that the Diaz movement has fallen so soon. Mexico agents here declare that it will make no difference with the progress of the revolutionary movement in the north of Mexico, and that still other federal leaders are expected to join the rebels.

WASHINGTON ASTONISHED AT NEWS OF DOWNFALL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—News of the capture of Vera Cruz by Mexican federal forces and the surrender of Gen. Felix Diaz and his staff, with practically no loss of resistance, was received with astonishment in official circles here. It is generally believed this event marks the complete suppression of what had been looked upon as the beginning of a general rebellion involving entirely new elements. A brief cablegram to the state department from American Consul Canada confirmed the report of the capture of Vera Cruz by General Beltrán. There was some fighting on the outskirts of the town, but only enough to justify Captain Hughes of the cruiser Des Moines in offering medical assistance for the wounded, which was gratefully accepted.

Strength Overrated.
The sudden collapse of the defense, after such elaborate preparations had been made for a general battle is taken as evidence that the strength of the revolutionary sentiment in the city of Vera Cruz has been very much overrated, and it was confined closely to the comparatively small garrison that flocked to General Diaz's standard, principally for sentimental motives. Already officials and army officers here are speculating as to the fate of Diaz and the other officers of the Mexican federal army who were led into this uprising. From the extreme bitterness of language in which General Beltrán, the government commander, couched his demand for the surrender of Vera Cruz, it is surmised that the captives will be treated with leniency, although under strict military law they probably would be subject to the death penalty. It is rather expected that they will be imprisoned in the city of Mexico, as was General Reyes.

Three Rebellions Still On.
The downfall of the Diaz movement leaves three rebellions in operation in Mexico, headed, respectively, by Zapata, Amador and Orozco. It is presumed the government forces employed against Diaz will be concentrated upon Aguilar, who is likely to be driven back into the mountains, that the bulk of the small bands into which Orozco's force has broken up will be reformed, and that the only really serious insurrection confronting the federal army will be in connection with the Zapata rebellion. The navy department is much pleased with the manner in which Captain Blachère of the two monitors has handled the situation at Vera Cruz. He will be relieved shortly by Commander A. T. Long, who is about to leave Washington for Vera Cruz for that purpose.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Colorado Springs People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them

Disordered kidneys are more signals of distress. The symptoms may be dull, constant pain. Passages are sometimes frequent, scanty, painful. Backache is often present day and night. Headaches and dizzy spells may occur. Weakness, nervousness, tremor, quick beats. Don't delay. Use a special kidney remedy. Don't's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders. Colorado Springs evidence proves their worth. Mrs. L. Eifer, 1014 E. Cimarron St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We have kept a supply of Don't's Kidney Pills in our house for years, procuring them from the Butcher Drug Co., and have found that they are unequalled for backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. We would not be without this preparation."

BECKER'S FATE INTO HANDS JURY TODAY

Opposing Counsel Spar in Summing Up Case Before Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The fate of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with the murder of the gambler Herman Rosenthal, will rest with the jury tomorrow. Counsel for both sides completed today their summing up, and all that remains to close the case is Justice Goff's charge to the jury.

Becker heard himself characterized by John F. McIntyre, his chief counsel, as the victim of a conspiracy plotted by Jack Rose, "the head of the assassins," and by Assistant District Attorney Moss as "the brains behind the gunmen, with a tremendous motive for murder."

The defense centered its attack on the state's case almost wholly on the testimony which Mr. McIntyre denounced as "a conspiracy of belief." He characterized the corroborating witnesses as "crooks and murderers," the state's case he summed up with a declaration that District Attorney Whitman "acted by ambition," and "fostered a prosecution framed up by crooks."

Opposing Counsel Spar. Assistant District Attorney Moss repeated the implication that Mr. Whitman had any other motive than duty for seeking the conviction of Becker, and denounced "the justification of counsel for the defense," as revealing the "desperate straits to which he had come."

Mr. Moss accused Mr. McIntyre of misrepresenting the evidence to the jury, impelling Becker's attorney to jump to his feet and shake his fist in the face of his opponent as he uttered an indignant denial.

"If Becker did not have a motive for the murder, why did he want to get an affidavit from Rose two days after Rosenthal was dead?" Mr. Moss asked. "The truth is, Becker did not know how things would go. He saw the possibility that Rose might be a witness against him, and he got an affidavit from Rose to silence him. He got Rose to swear his own life away, so he couldn't testify against him."

"Throws Pal to Dogs." Sam Schepps, Mr. Moss' conceded, was an accessory after the fact, but had come forward to testify that Becker had thrown this pal, Rose, to the dogs.

"Why," the prosecutor asked, "if Becker had not interest in the murder, did he visit to police station, where Rosenthal's body was lying? Becker was off duty. What reason did he have to go there?"

Mr. Moss said that the defense had dwelt throughout the trial upon an alleged conspiracy to murder Rosenthal, "founded on the hatred of the underworld," but had not introduced a shred of proof that such a conspiracy had existed.

Answering Mr. McIntyre's declaration that the four gunmen, yet to be tried, might go free, even if Becker were convicted, Mr. Moss said:

Need Not Fear Gunmen. "Have no fear that you will ever meet these four men on Broadway. We have not disclosed our entire case against them yet, and you need not be afraid of meeting Rose, Webber and Valion there after the trial is over. Their friends, the gunmen of the underworld, will take care of that."

For the character of his witnesses Mr. Moss offered no apology. He declared, however, that if the district attorney had not accepted the testimony of the four informers, Rose, Webber and Valion, and Schepps, all 10 men arrested with the case, would be at large.

Mr. Moss denied that Rose, Valion and Webber had been given immunity. "Their stipulations do not protect them from prosecution if they fired a shot," he said. "To say that those men are testifying to save their lives is to be before the issue."

Becker's Alibi, State Victory. Frederick Hawley, the newspaper reporter put on by the defense to prove an alibi for Becker, in connection with his alleged meeting with Rose and Webber the morning of the murder, was declared by Mr. Moss to have been really a witness for the state.

"He testified that he telephoned Becker," Mr. Moss said, "and told him of the murder. Jack Rose testified that when he telephoned Becker, Becker had told him that he had heard of the murder from a newspaper man. There's corroboration from the defense's own witness."

Mr. Moss denounced the defense for characterizing Sam Schepps as a murderer. "Schepps never premeditated the killing of Rosenthal," he said, "but after it was over, and he learned about the murder, he committed the crime of hiding. He was an accessory after the fact, which is a separate crime from murder, and not punishable in the same degree."

Rose Swore Life Away. "Rose wrote to Schepps, his pal, and said, 'The electric chair states us in the face. The only one to get out from under this Becker. He deserted me like a dirty dog.' He deserted me."

"How did Becker get out from under it? I will tell you. He got Rose to swear his life away. He got Rose to make an affidavit, clearing him (Becker) of any motive for killing Rosenthal, and fixed it so Rose couldn't testify against him. Then Becker turned down message after message from Rose, and Rose saw that Becker had deserted him, and that he, and not Becker, was facing the electric chair. That's why he wrote to Sam Schepps to help him out."

CLARK DEFENDS THE DEMOCRATIC PLANK ON TARIFF QUESTION

DENVER, Oct. 23.—Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, completed the first of a two-day speaking campaign in Colorado with an address tonight before an audience that filled the municipal auditorium. Large crowds greeted him at La Junta and Rocky Ford where he spoke during the day. In all three speeches Speaker Clark gave his principal attention to a discussion of the tariff.

"I must admit that Woodrow Wilson was not my first choice for nomination," said the speaker here tonight. "But after his nomination he became as much my candidate as any man's between the two oceans. In regard to Governor Wilson, it well can be said that it is better to be born lucky than rich. I never before saw two Republicans work so hard for a Democrat as Taft and Roosevelt."

Taft and Wilson agree that the tariff is the overshadowing issue in this campaign. Roosevelt has ideas all his own. It is constantly asserted that Democrats seek tariff legislation that would injure business. This is the most monstrous fable since Ananias and Sapphira had their ill starved land transaction.

"The Republicans claim that a high tariff is necessary to protect infant industries, but some of their infant industries are 123 years old and it is high time they were divorced from the public crib and made to walk alone."

Speaker Clark reviewed the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and declared the support given it by President Taft had turned the public against him and assured his defeat at the polls in November.

FRIENDS OF INDIAN MEET IN NEW YORK

Chancellor Brown of New York University Delivers Stirring Address

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The thirteenth annual Lake Mohonk conference of Friends of the Indian and Other Dependent Peoples convened the first of its three-day sessions here this morning.

The initial session was largely addressed, some of the most notable of

CHANCELLOR E. E. BROWN of New York University

American advocates for the alleviation of conditions among racial dependents being present. Among those were Robert G. Valentine, United States commissioner of Indian affairs; George Vaux, Jr., and Warren F. Moorehead, of the United States board of Indian commissioners; Governor Dix of New York, and Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown, of New York university.

Indian welfare was the leading topic of discussion. Dr. Brown opened the business of the convention with an address on "The Need of Protection for Indian Property."

The chancellor called attention to poverty of the Indian of the present day, drawing a striking comparison between the present reservations of the red man and the landless territory that was formerly his. The doctor stated that there was as much need for the conservation of the rights of the Indian as there was for the conservation of national resources. He dealt extensively with the late Indian frauds and called attention to the inroads that were yearly being made upon Indian territory by designing white men.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Two men, named Charles E. Wilson III at the same time at the county hospital here, became mixed when one of them died, several days ago.

Old-Time Remedy, a Scalp Tonic, Darkens the Hair Naturally

For generations Sage and Sulphur have been used for hair and scalp troubles. Almost everyone knows the value of such a combination for keeping the hair a good even color, for curing dandruff, itching, scalp and falling hair. Years ago the only way to get a Hair Tonic of this kind was to make it in the home, which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays, almost any up-to-date druggist can supply his patients with a ready-to-use product, skillfully prepared in perfectly equipped laboratories.

An ideal preparation of this sort is Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for scalp troubles and thin, weak hair that is losing its color or coming out. After using this remedy for a few days, you will notice the color gradually coming back, your scalp will feel better, the dandruff will soon be gone and in less than a month's time there will be a wonderful difference in your hair.

Don't neglect your hair if it is full of dandruff, losing its color or coming out. Get a fifty-cent bottle of Weyth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and see what a few days' treatment will do for you. All druggists sell it under guarantee that it cures scalp and hair troubles. It is made by Dr. Weyth, a famous hair specialist, and is sold exactly as represented.

HEAVY BATTLE

The Turkish newspapers report Turkish victories near Kirk-Kiliseh, where they assert the Bulgarians left 3,000 dead on the field. At Maras, between the Tundja and Maritza rivers, four miles to the west of Adrianople, where the Bulgarians had 30,000 men engaged, they left thousands of dead.

Several engagements have occurred on the road between Adrianople and Kirk-Kiliseh. The Bulgarians advanced on Adrianople in three columns—from the north along the Tundja river, from the west along the Maritza, and from the southwest along the Arda.

Servians Capture Fort. BELGRADE, Serbia, Oct. 23.—It is officially announced that the third Serbian army today captured the town of Novipazar after fierce fighting and great sacrifices.

The second contingent of wounded, numbering 150, arrived here this afternoon. The wounded were cheered as the hospital trains passed. All the wounded are being treated at hospitals.

Describes Explosions. Gilson described two explosions jobs in Cleveland in 1906. At one time, in September, on a railway duct, he said, a satellite containing sticks of dynamite fuse and a candle evidently had been thrown out of a passing train, was found.

William H. Medley of Fall River, Mass., a police officer, told of blowing up of a bridge across Taunton river in April, 1908, where pieces of fuse were found.

The testimony so far has been regarded as preliminary to that given by McManis and later witnesses.

In view of the fact that France taken tennis up seriously during past decade, and won considerable success in the field, it is interesting to note that the game is really of French origin, though most of its development has been in England. TENNIS AN ANCIENT GAME
From the New York Sun.
By many people tennis is thought to be an essentially modern game, but in reality it is probably one of the most ancient ball games, and was a sport long before cricket was dreamed of. Though undoubtedly not existing during the Arthurian period, tennis, as it was called "tenez," is mentioned in the Arthurian legends, written in 1500 and the knights of the round table were pictured as engaged in the sport when the weather was too hot for tournaments or hunts.
From a simple beginning, and through many centuries, the intricacy of the game's rules has been developed. Its present name seems to be a corruption of the term "tenez," which the server used in the same way "ready" is called out now. In the beginning the name was jeu de paume, taken from the fact that the ball was struck with the hands instead of with a racket. Later the hand was increased in a glove, and still later the glove was covered with strings, running criss-cross, from which condition there was but a short step to the short-handled racket.
In feudal times, the courts were merely open grass-plots, and not till

REBELS TAKE AMERICAN MINING PROPERTIES

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 23.—Rebels have taken two important American mining properties in Mexico, according to definite advices received today by representatives here of the two companies. Most important is the capture by rebels of the American Smelting and Refining property at Velardena, state of Durango. Company property includes one of the largest smelters in Mexico. The property is supported largely by Kansas capital.

Also local representatives of the Carrigan-Kinney interests of Pittsburgh, Pa., learned today of the seizure of the Rio Tinto mine, located in the state of Chihuahua. Employees of the property were driven off; the company's store looted, and the pumping plant destroyed.

HOW HARVESTER TRUST WAS FORMED, ELICITED BY GOVT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—When the International Harvester company, the so-called harvester trust, was formed in 1902, its organization was made up of directors, some of whom had offices not longer than 24 hours, according to several witnesses who testified today when hearings were begun here in the government suit to dissolve the company. This connection, however, was long enough, the testimony ran, for them to aid in the purchase of independent companies.

One of these directors was R. E. M. Cravath, who resigned after one day's directorship. He testified that his financial assistance to the "trust" was the purchase of the Minnie Harvester company for nearly one million dollars, this company later passing into the control of the "trust."

Abram M. Hyatt, vice-president of the Lincoln Trust company, testified he was a director for a day only while E. M. F. Miller, a Wall Street broker, said he was the first president of the Harvester company, although he had never been in the business nor held connection with a harvester company prior to his election.

Connection Brief.

One of the witnesses said George W. Perkins suggested his election, but he did not recall who asked him to resign, while other witnesses said they could not remember who suggested either their election or resignation.

Mr. Miller said he was sure he held office as president longer than 24 hours. He had never expected and declared to have permanent connection with the company.

Mr. Cravath, a Wall Street banker, said that when elected a director he expected to continue as a member of the board but the very next day he was asked to resign. In purchasing the Minnie Harvester company, he said, he did not act independently but at the instruction of others, and that he thought he borrowed $945,000 from the Bankers Trust company with which to purchase the stock.

Joseph P. Cotten, Jr., a Wall Street lawyer, who said he attended to matters of detail in the incorporation of the company, testified that at a meeting of stockholders in August, 1902, he held proxies for about 90 per cent of the shares, and acted under instructions from the voting trustees, who, he said, were George W. Perkins, Cyrus H. McCormick and Charles Deering.

THREE PARTIES ARE NOW CLOSING UP CAMPAIGNS

Thousands of Dollars Required to Carry on Work National Committees

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Directors of the three chief national political parties held widely different views as to the best method of running a presidential campaign, according to information obtained from headquarters here showing where hundreds of thousands of dollars have gone this year.

Magazine, newspaper, billboard poster and street car advertising, thrusting upon the voter the name, achievements and promises of the president, has been the chief and most expensive feature of the Republican national committee's campaign.

The production and circulation of literature, arguments and news letters of an educational nature for which no money had to be paid for publication has absorbed the greater part of the cash collected by the Progressive national committee.

A general political campaign with one-half of the total expenditures devoted to advertising and publicity work and fully one-fifth given to the traveling expenses of speakers, candidates and special organizers has characterized the activities of the Democratic national committee.

Summary Due Soon.

Until the preliminary expenditures statements are made public late this week a summary of the expenditures from the Republican and Progressive committee will not be available.

A rough estimate given out at Democratic headquarters, showing where approximately $500,000 has gone since the presidential fight opened in July furnished a basis, however, for comparison as to methods in the different political campaigns in a campaign which has been conducted more nearly upon lines of business efficiency than any that have preceded.

Of the total Democratic expenditures about $200,000 will cover the activities of the "publicity end," it is said. This includes $50,000 for direct advertising in publications, $50,000 for "bottle plate" of the news service furnished to small country newspapers and a large sum spent in publishing, mailing and circulating literature.

The amounts spent by the Republican committee for the direct advertising work is not yet available, but Secretary James A. Reynolds stated

The committee has followed a budget of estimates, prepared by Mr. Reynolds at the beginning of the campaign in which over three-fifths of the total was set aside for advertising purposes of all kinds.

The Republican committee made a six weeks' advertising contract with certain weekly magazines including agricultural papers, and newspaper Sunday supplements. Another advertising contract made by Mr. Reynolds covers 22,551 billboards in states from coast to coast and still another contract provides for the display of advertising slides in 1,200 moving picture houses throughout the country. WILSON SPEAKS AT CHURCH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 23.—In the solemn atmosphere of a church, apart from the noise of political demonstration, to which he has been accustomed during the last two months, Gov. Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech tonight. It was virtually a sermon on the value of church organization, and was the principal address at the exercises celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the First Presbyterian church of Trenton.

"The church is one of the many expressions of the permanent side of life," he said. "This church, through its 200 years, has witnessed the birth and death of political parties. It has seen everything change except the search for God, and every community should realize that the search of God should take preference over everything else."

"I know that the salvation of the community and the salvation of the state is to be found only by men who are greater than their material. A man who is indifferent to his own success, but confident only of the cause he represents, has the hosts of almighty God behind him."

PEOPLE TO VOTE ON SUNDAY ORDINANCE

Voters in Colorado Springs at the next general city election in April will determine whether the proposed day of rest ordinance, which has been widely discussed for several months, shall become a law. Resolutions to this effect were adopted yesterday by the city council.

Mayor Avery and Commissioner Lawton took part in a lively argument before the adoption of the resolution. There was no second to the motion of Commissioner Frost that the ordinance be placed on its final passage.

Declaring that it was not worth the paper it was written on, Commissioner Lawton said he would oppose the proposed ordinance. He was of the opinion that it would exempt everybody who would be affected by it, and would be impossible of enforcement, although an additional appropriation for that purpose would be required by the police department. He stated that unenforceable laws would result, occupying the time of the city attorney from more important cases.

That the measure would permit some of the most objectionable phases of Sunday business and would prohibit others much less objectionable, was the declaration of Commissioner Lawton in opposing it.

Mayor Favors Ordinance

Mayor Avery defended the ordinance. "If we can stop three things, coal hauling, house building and the opening of clothing stores on Sunday," he declared, "the ordinance will have proved its worth, and will mark a big step in advance. If we find that it isn't satisfactory, we can repeal it, and if it seems to need changes we can amend it. This is a good thing, and I can see no reason why taxpayers should be put to the expense of voting for it."

The vote to refer the ordinance carried four to one. Mayor Avery cast the only vote against it.

The ordinance briefly prohibits the hauling on Sunday of bulky commodities, or public construction work, or any work disturbing the public or the peace, "unless required by necessity." It forbids the opening of any stores on Sunday, a number of lines of business being exempted, and nothing in the ordinance is to be construed as prohibiting the doing of anything necessary for the proper care of animals, perishable foods or commodities, for the preservation of life or property or for the welfare of the general public on Sunday. Those who observe some other day as a day of rest are exempted with certain conditions. Employers are prohibited from permitting anyone in their employ to work on Sunday unless such work be necessary and the employee have as many working hours off some other day as he is required to work on Sunday. Managers and employers, domestics, nurses and the like are subject to this provision, if they have reasonable opportunity for rest and recreation.

The penalties are from $5 to $100, and the ordinance does not repeal any other ordinance relating to Sunday or Sunday observance.

This Home-Made Cough Syrup Will Surprise You

Stops Every Whooping Cough Quickly. A Family Supply at Small Cost.

Here is a home-made remedy that takes hold of a cough instantly, and will usually cure the most stubborn case in 24 hours. This recipe makes a pint—enough for a whole family. You couldn't buy as much or as good ready-made cough syrup for $2.50.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. This keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste, children like it. Braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps and cures.

You probably know the medical value of pine in treating asthma, bronchitis and other throat troubles, sore lungs, etc. There is nothing better. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this inexpensive remedy have made friends for it in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada, which explains why this plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CITY WILL ASK FOR LOWER PHONE RATES

Will Also Request Company to Change Style of Pay Telephones

Lower rates and abolition of the nickel-first telephones will be requested of the telephone company by the city council. City Attorney McKesson yesterday submitted a report to the council as to what the city may do with regard to telephone service. The report was referred to the council as a committee of the whole, and the city clerk was instructed to consult telephone officials and arrange a conference to be held at an early date.

Respective rights of the city, the telephone user and the telephone company, which each must respect, were discussed by the city attorney in his report. He pointed out that a public utility company must make its service reasonably efficient to eliminate unnecessary inconvenience to the general public. However, if a person installs a no-connection telephone, and states that he cannot afford the additional expense of a telephone always connected, the city would gain nothing by having it removed, even if it had the authority to do so. City Attorney McKesson's opinion, from the city's point of view, is as follows, in part:

May Demand Lower Rates

It can turn again to the telephone company, and demand its reason for making a lower rate on the no-connection phone than on some other style of phone. The city would always be connected to the public interest involved, the city might compel the company to discontinue the use of such phones. "I think that if the company cannot show a reasonable excuse for using the no-connection phones, that the city would be justified in passing an ordinance prohibiting the use of such phones in the city."

There is another method of adjusting matters with the telephone company if it persists in installing a character of phone objectionable to the safety departments of the city, and that would be by reducing telephone rates in the city. If charges on telephones were generally reduced, the man who can now only afford a no-connection phone might be able to afford a phone always connected.

Charges Not Fixed

The telephone franchise does not fix the rates; the company shall charge. The city has the right to fix the rates which a company shall charge, when the franchise does not fix any rate that shall be charged. But the county has imposed a limitation on the authority of the city to reduce rates, which is this: The city cannot reduce rates below that which would enable the company to pay operating expenses, and to pay interest on its real indebtedness, and a fair interest on the money invested in its business.

If the council, after investigation, finds that the rates charged by the telephone company in Colorado Springs are in excess of what they should be to enable the company to pay the expenses mentioned and reasonable rate of interest on the money invested in its business in this city, it can legally pass an ordinance reducing telephone rates in this city, unless such an ordinance would be found by the courts to be unreasonable and unfair, the courts would uphold it. Yours respectfully, C. L. MCKESSON, City Attorney.

WILL DEMAND REMOVAL OF CARETAKER'S HOUSE

Immediate action will be taken by the city for the removal of the caretaker's house located near the Half-way house on Pikes Peak, to a point where it is no danger of polluting the city water, in the event the Colorado Springs Light, Heat & Power company does not voluntarily obey instructions of the city council to make the change.

Resolutions to this effect were adopted by the city council yesterday. The health department was directed to notify the company of the report of the city attorney on the matter, and to demand immediate obedience of the original order, made last summer.

In his report, submitted yesterday, the city attorney stated that the caretaker's house was placed in its present position on the advice and with the consent of the authorities of a prior administration. But, to insure the purity of the water supply, he pointed out, the house should be removed to a location below the intake. He cited the Jackson franchise, under which the company is using city water for power purposes, and which provides that the water shall not be polluted, and that the city shall be the sole judge as to pollution.

The report states that the city can order the removal of the house, and can institute legal proceedings against the company if the order is not obeyed. If a suit of this kind is brought, the city attorney is of the opinion that the court will either forfeit the franchise or grant the city the desired relief.

The city attorney holds that, because a former administration consented to the present location of the house, it does not affect the legal right of the city to demand its removal at any time, but, as a matter of equity, the city should consider, and do what is right in view of any expenditures that were made by the light company under the direction of former city administrations.

COLORADO FARMERS ARE MAKING MONEY

Experts Aboard Dry Farming Special Say Prosperity Has Returned

Special to The Gazette. LIMON, Oct. 23.—That prosperity has returned to the farmers of eastern Colorado is evident on the tour of the Rock Island dry farming special train on its tour of lectures and demonstrations.

Instead of many cases of discouragement found on a similar trip a year ago, the farming experts aboard the special are now greeted by throngs of happy farmers who insist on banqueting and entertaining the visitors. The residents, in and around Hannan were especially lavish in their display of hospitality, and at that town Lem Gammon officiated as host and arranged a chicken supper, followed by a dance. Simla, Mattison and Limon all turned out big crowds to hear the lecturers. Potato shipping is in progress at Simla, and fully 75 carloads will be sent out from that town this season, which is far in excess of shipments a year ago.

El Paso county's plan of agricultural demonstration work probably will be extended to Elbert and Lincoln counties. The question is being presented to the farmers at every stop made and they are urged to take up the matter with the county commissioners.

Stops will be made today at Genoa, Bovina and Arriba by the dry farming special.

The railroads are offering the highest wages in years for section men, $1.50 to $1.75 a day. Bridge carpenters are offered $2.50 for 10 hours.

BOY NEARLY KILLED; FOUND ACCIDENTALLY

Son of F. G. Peck Is Run Down and Left Unconscious in Yard

The latest victim of the speed mania is Robert Peck, 12 years old, who is in a serious condition at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Peck, 317 North Nevada avenue, as the result of being knocked unconscious from his bicycle in a collision. He is suffering from a severe concussion on the side of his head and another under his left arm, but an examination by a physician shows that no bones were broken.

The collision occurred about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening in front of the home of W. E. Yates, 618 North Nevada avenue, where the victim was found unconscious after a delivery boy calling there. It appears that the person who collided with a delivery boy named that he had killed him, as he deserted the victim after dragging him from the street and covering his face with a handkerchief.

There is evidence that the speed mania also was hurt, as blood found near the spot where the victim was laid out was not from the injured boy. It is believed that had not the delivery boy arrived on the scene and discovered the unconscious lad a few moments after the collision, death would have resulted. The injured boy was carried into the Yates home, and the parents notified. Upon regaining consciousness yesterday morning he could recall none of the details of the collision. He was riding northward, but did not remember any vehicle coming toward him.

Detectives Ralback and Gavin are investigating the collision. They believe the boy was struck by a bicycle or motorcycle, as an approaching automobile would have given warning. It is their opinion that the other rider was wounded in the hand, and that the blood found near the victim came from that injury when young Peck was carried into the yard.

The father of the injured boy said last night that he feels that an ordinance should be passed against fast riding or driving, especially after dark.

DILLON MAY BE RETAINED IN WATER BOND QUESTION

City Attorney McKesson yesterday received from Judge John A. Dillon of New York an authority on municipal law, a communication referring to minor details to be arranged in the event he is retained to superintend the proposed issue of $500,000 worth of refunding water bonds when the utility of the proposition is determined.

In a recent decision Judge Dillon recommended that the proposition be not presented to voters at the election November 5, as there was then not time for him to supervise the issue of refunding bonds so that the question could be submitted at the general election.

If the non-refundment passes, there will be no question of the right of the city to issue refunding bonds, but if not, we will have to retain Judge Dillon to settle the question," said McKesson last night. "The amendment is a provision giving under the charter form of government the right to superintend the state law in relation to the issue of bonds.

We must suppose the state law to refund bonds at the present time, because the state law provides only for the refunding of bonds when due, and these bonds are not due for several years."

News of Local Courts

The city of Colorado Springs is not to blame for injuries sustained by John Hoode in falling on an icy sidewalk in front of the office of the International Realty company last spring, declares city Attorney McKesson, in an answer filed yesterday in the district court to the petition of Hoode for $2,000 damages from the city and the realty company. He states that the realty company was negligent in its duty in not keeping the sidewalk clean. Hoode has filed a motion asking the court to set the trial for October 28.

Mrs. Athena Sturm, aged 22, yesterday filed suit in the county court to divorce from John H. Sturm, aged 45. She alleges repeated and extreme acts of cruelty. The suit of Charles W. Sparling against Thomas Rowland et al. for $12,000 damages for personal injuries, set for trial yesterday afternoon in Justice Goodrich's court, was continued until 9:30 o'clock this morning, on account of the illness of one of the attorneys.

The suit involves a neighborhood row which ended in a free-for-all fight. Rowland claims that Sparling, his partner, was behind on rent and secretly was moving his household effects to another house. In a fight that ensued, Sparling claims he was severely injured.

On a charge of assault to do bodily injury, Rowland was arrested and held by Justice Goodrich's court. Sparling was released on $1,000 bond.

"SECRET OF SUSANNE" IS A DELIGHTFUL OPERA

That overworked phrase, "large and appreciative," aptly described the audience at the Burns last night, when "The Secret of Susanne" was produced. The delightful light opera came up to the glowing descriptions of its press agents, and the fashionable audience, including many critical music lovers, enthusiastically received both the opera itself, a 40-minute sketch, and the concert accompanying.

Only three characters appear in "The Secret of Susanne"--Count Gill, his wife, Countess Susanne, and Sante, the servant, who neither speaks nor sings during the entire performance. His acting, however, is eloquence itself.

Alfredo Costa, who was cast for Count Gill, was unable to appear, and Aurea Borris took the role, while Miss Alice Zeppilli, a member of the Chicago Grand Opera company, was the Countess Susanne. Francisco Daddi appeared as Sante.

Miss Zeppilli is a pleasing soprano. She sings with ease and finish and has an attractive personality. Borris also was well received, both on account of his singing and his acting.

The story of "The Secret of Susanne" is taken from the French of Emile Goussier. It was first produced at Munich November 4, 1909, and the present production by the Chicago Grand opera company is the first in America. The scene is the drawing room in the Countess Susanne's home, who is 20 years his junior.

The production would not be a modern opera, if it carried much of a plot. Count Gill is passing of his wife, who smokes his cigarettes, unknown to him, and when he approaches her he smells the smoke. He assumes that a man has been there during his absence and sharply questions Susanne, who confesses no explanation. He rushes about the house, looking for his supposed rival, and his wife lights another cigarette. The count returns and the countess hides the cigarette behind her. Her husband seizes Susanne to pull her away from the man who he thinks is hiding behind her, and burns his hand on her cigarette.

The secret is out at last, and both husband and wife are penitent. They forgive each other and smoke together, at the same time doing a joyful "tango-tango."

The story closes with the dumb servant lighting a cigarette as the happy couple leave the room.

The concert was no inconsiderable feature of the evening's entertainment. Several vocal and instrumental solos were given and were enthusiastically received.

WOMAN SLAIN FOR GIVING FACTS OF WHITE SLAVERY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 23.—After a day of investigation, the police tonight were unable to fix the motive for which Rose Samuels of Bridgeport, lately of Chicago, was shot to death near Putnam cemetery last night by Joe Bonano.

Bonano, who is known as "Chicago Joe," it is said, has confessed to killing the woman, his common-law wife, giving as the reason that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing.

The police still cling to the theory that the woman, who was a character in the Bridgeport underworld, was killed because she had revealed the inner workings of the white slave traffic in Chicago.

Bonano, Joseph Mattia and Frank Phelan, who were arrested last night after a hearing on Saturday, are now being held on $2,000 bond.

No other men in the party, who disappeared after the killing.

"Some have wandered away from the temple, but all of them have come back, and those who may wander away this time will come back again, and will be welcomed when they return."

The New York Westchester & Boston railroad, now approaching completion, is described by Collier's as a model road without a single grade crossing, without a single home in its path, and with no signs that look like

HIGH SCHOOL TO DROP MIDYEAR EXAMINATIONS

There will be no more mid-year graduations in the High school. This is the ultimatum of the board of education, which, in the future, will devote its energies toward the spring commencement exercises. The courses at the High school have been so arranged that there can be no more half-year subjects, and this will prevent any further mid-year graduations.

The school board feels that the system used in the past has been wrong, and believes that a more realistic system by taking parallel courses and graduating at the same time than by the old method. There are one or two who will finish their courses this year in January, but there will be no exercises on their graduation.

Body Cripple Creek Man Blown Through End of Cabin Wall

CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 23.—A victim of a careless prospector, who left a pile of dynamite in the oven of a stove in a little cabin on Grouse mountain, Charles Olson, aged 40 years, a well-known Cripple Creek prospector, was found dead on the country road three miles south of Cripple Creek this morning. Olson had been blown through the end of the cabin and had been crawling two and one-half miles down Grouse mountain in a futile search for help. His hands and knees were worn into the bones, showing that he had crawled away from the scene of the accident.

The dynamite, it is believed, had been left in the oven of the stove by a careless prospector, to thaw out when Olson, who was out rabbit hunting, reached the cabin, and built a fire in the stove, the dynamite exploded, tearing the stove into small pieces and hurling it and Olson through the end of the cabin. Olson's body was badly mutilated. It was found by George Tounitz, janitor of the Cripple Creek hotel.

Child Recovered by Fake Advertisements

DENVER, Oct. 23.—Mrs. Myrtle Smith of Denver today recovered possession of her nine-year-old son, Glen, who had been secreted in Detroit by his father, David E. Smith. The mother secured the child through "fake" advertisements of an estate of $100,000 left to the grandfather of the child, Benjamin F. Smith. The Smiths were divorced at Fort Collins in 1910. Custody of the child was given to Benjamin F. Smith, except during a part of the year when he was to visit the mother. The father and grandfather, however, failed to let the boy visit Mrs. Smith and upon her complaint to the court the decree was changed and custody given to her. Then began a search for the boy, which ended when the Smiths answered the bogus advertisement.

TO PROSECUTE MAN WHO ROBBED TRUST CO. AND LATER MADE RESTITUTION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Reports current here more than a year that the Union Trust company had been robbed of $1,000,000 in securities and $30,000 in cash by an employee were confirmed today, when Governor Fisher, at Harrisburg, decided that so far as the state is concerned, Walter K. Shourds, who is accused of appropriating the money and securities, must be prosecuted, notwithstanding that restitution has been made to the trust company. The company is now known as the Merchants Union Trust company.

The securities it is said, were taken from a safe deposit box rented by George Burnham, Jr., who is connected with locomotive works in this city. Shourds, who was superintendent of the safe deposit vaults of the trust company, fled the country shortly before his crime was discovered. He was indicted by a federal grand jury in his absence. Subsequently it is reported, he opened communication for the return of the securities and money, through personal advertisements inserted in New York, Philadelphia and Paris newspapers. He was traced and made restitution.

Eugene Roth of Detroit, Mitchell's partner, was flying directly over Mitchell. He was carrying a passenger and had planned to follow Mitchell's similar spiral. He said tonight, after Mitchell lost control of his plane, the plane tilted to the perpendicular so that he could see to ground between them. # FEARORS VS. WEST SIDERS TOMORROW

The Terrors will do battle tomorrow afternoon at their grounds in Monument Valley park with the husky Robbins West Side football team. This is the first regular game for the Terrors, and should be hard to win, as the west siders have a number of old, brown and white players, who are heavy and fast.

The Terrors probably will play the team from the Deaf and Blind school this afternoon in a practice game, and this will be their first game against the institute team. The latter squad is better than ever this year, and it is said to give a forward pass formation that is hard to beat.

Arrangements are being made for a game with Manual Training High school of Denver, at Washington field in this city, election day, November 5. The local schools will get a holiday, and the game is to be scheduled if the Denver High school get a holiday. The Manual Training team is ranked as the best in Denver this year.

PAPKE WINS IN 17TH AT PARIS

PARIS, Oct. 23.—Billy Papke of Illinois, the middleweight fighter, tonight defeated the French champion, Georges Carpentier. The Frenchman quit after the seventh round.

At the weighing in at 3 p. m. Papke exceeded the middleweight limit. Carpentier was under weight. The Frenchman's manager immediately claimed the title of middleweight champion. He said: "The fight will proceed as arranged, but it will not be for the title, which belongs now to Carpentier."

"It was the hardest fight of my career," said Papke, after carpen- ter the idol of the French sporting public, throw up the sponge. It was evident from the first few rounds that Carpentier was no match for Papke, whose lightning tactics completely baffled the Frenchman. But he fought with great pluck and determination. At the end of the eighth round Carpentier's right eye was closed. After that he kept away from the American as much as possible.

In the fifteenth and sixteenth rounds the Frenchman came back strong. Papke opened the seventeenth round with a terrific left hook to the jaw, which floored and practically finished the Frenchman. Carpentier gamely got to his feet and managed to drag out the round, but obviously he was unable to continue, and after a brief consultation with his manager, he gave up.

Papke receives $5,000 for his part of the purse, with certain other emoluments. He had to pay a forfeit of $1,000 to Carpentier for overweight.

PLAYERS' FRAT GOES AGAINST INTEMPERANCE

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—With Dave Fultz, the old-time pitcher and first baseman of the St. Louis Browns as president, and Christy Mathewson, Mike Doohan of the Phillies, Ty Cobb and Ed Sweeney of the Yankees as vice presidents, the organization of the Baseball Players' fraternity was perfected at a meeting held in the law office of Mr. Fultz this afternoon.

The purpose of the fraternity, is primarily to protect the men from unjust discipline. They have been fined and suspended in the past without a hearing, and it is to counteract this condition that they have joined hands so that they may protect as a body.

When Haps Wacker enrolled as a member of the fraternity today, the roster included the names of nearly every star in the two major leagues. To date, 288 players have joined the organization, and a dozen more will be taken in during the coming week.

Many of the young players in the two leagues have asked to join, but the directors have decided to admit to membership only those who have shown enough ability to earn regular berths with the teams.

EVERS WILL MANAGE CHICAGO CUBS IN 1913

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—John Evers, said he had selected Chance's successor and described the new manager of the Chicago Cubs as "the youngest, the fastest, the most enthusiastic and a brainy player."

The dismissal of Frank Chance and the appointment of Evers as manager of the Chicago Nationals is one of the biggest happenings in the baseball world. Evers is a player that knows the inside baseball game from A to Z, and is popular with his men.

Grecian Wrestler Star on Penn Team

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—With the acquisition of the suddenly built Greek wrestler, Miki Doriaz, the University of Pennsylvania football squad now numbers nearly 60 candidates for varsity and freshman teams.

The Greek, who is the office of Robeson Lee Post, graduate manager of the athletic association, the day before opened and modestly asked if he could join the athletic association. He had been a wrestler in the Olympic games in 1908 and had also taken second place in the discus and third place in the javelin and was anxious to get some exercise and keep himself in condition during the winter.

Post advised him to seek exercise with the football squad. Accordingly the Greek reported and was turned over to Alvin Miller, coach of the freshmen.

Green but Willing.

While Doriaz is green, never having seen a foot ball game in his life, he is willing, and is now anxious to make a reputation for himself as one of the "cosmopolitan" athletes stars which the University of Pennsylvania has developed, taking his place with Guy Haskins, the New Zealander, who won the half mile and the mile in the international races at Winter, the international races at Winter, the summer track and field games, and other sportsmen who have gained their education at the University of Pennsylvania.

LIVINGSTON WOULD GIVE MILLION FOR FOGEL'S PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—Jefferson Livingston of Cincinnati, today held a conference here with Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia Nationals, at which the purchase of the club was discussed. No agreement was reached. Livingston says he made a cash offer not far below the $1,000,000 mark.

Stahl's Profits for Season Are $35,000

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—Most of the Red Sox have left town after receiving more money for six months' work than ever before. There is still more cash to come, for some of them are going on the stage and others are to lend their names and pictures to advertising propositions. Jake Stahl has received about $35,000, comprising $10,000 salary, $4,000 for his share in the world's series gate, and interest on his stock in the club. The club earned about $40,000 during the season, and Stahl has about 5 per cent of the stock.

Stahl's earnings amounted to about $14,000, including $5,000 salary, $2,000 for advertising, and $1,000 for writing stories of the world's series games. Joe Wood has garnered about $17,500 in similar fashion.

Some men, however, are to see the Red Sox for a share in the world's series gate. He is Casey Hagerman, pitcher, who when the club paid $500 a year ago. He was released early in the season, but since then he reported every day at Fenway park. He was ordered to return to Boston, where he was to be paid, but refused because his salary was cut. He claims he is a member of the Red Sox and is to appeal to the national commission.

"Frozen to Marrow," Says Snodgrass, on His Muff of Series

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Fred Snodgrass, center fielder for the New York Giants, whose muff of a fly ball in the tenth inning of the last game ended the Boston Red Sox in winning the world's championship, arrived here today to spend the winter. Snodgrass will play with the Oxford team during the winter.

Snodgrass said that he was "frozen to the marrow" when his fatal mis-play occurred. "I didn't seem to be able to hold the ball," he said. "It just dropped out of the glove, and that was all there was to it."

He said he was more sorry on Mathewson's account than his own. Charles Hall, the Red Sox pitcher, is expected tomorrow. He will play with Ventura.

JOHNSON'S BROTHER AND SISTER TURN AGAINST HIM

"Lord Is Directing Justice Against Jack," Says Brother; Girl to Tell All

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Charles Johnson, brother of "Jack" Johnson, negro pugilist, today willingly entered the federal grand jury room and told all he knew regarding the relations of his brother and the white girl, Lucile Cameron of Minneapolis, who recently was taken from the negro champion by her mother. Charles Johnson recently was arrested at the instigation of the grand jury on the charge of them.

Young Johnson is said to have given the grand jury important information. His story is said to be almost of equal importance with that told yesterday by the Cameron girl. As he entered the jury room, Young Johnson was heard to declare:

"It is the hand of God. The Lord has taken this fellow in hand and is directing justice against him."

Neither Miss Cameron nor her mother were recalled before the grand jury today, as had been expected. It is said, however, that Lucile will be one of the main witnesses on Monday, when the investigation is resumed.

Glad to Tell Story.

The younger Johnson, who is about 25, is as big as the champion, seemed overjoyed at the opportunity of telling his story. He was in the jury room for nearly two hours.

A sister of Jack Johnson also appeared at the federal building, ready to testify, but she was not called before the jury today.

The only other witness to testify was Joseph Levy, the champion's white secretary.

ROGER SAYS HE IS GOING TO FIGHT FOR MANAGEMENT CARDS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 23.—"Fight! And I going to fight! Well, I guess yes," Roger Bresnahan, deposed manager of the St. Louis Nationals, said today. "I am ready to fight for my rights and will go into any court they want me to, I never quit on the ball field, and I won't quit now."

Rumors were in circulation today that President Robert L. Hodges of the St. Louis Americans was after Bresnahan to manage his club next season, and was ready to pay the latter the $100,000 a year his contract with the St. Louis Nationals called for, but not the 10 per cent of the profits. It is believed Bresnahan would be peculiarly valuable to the local Americans because of his ability to steady young pitchers. The American team has a number of promising youngsters.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1912.
OFF THE MAIN LINE

IN AN editorial purporting to discuss the subject of good roads the Telegraph remarks:
"Roads should be built like railroads, with main and trunk lines. Once the main line is established and in good condition, the work of building trunk lines may be begun. Trunk line after trunk line may be built, etc."
The following definition of a trunk line, from the Standard Dictionary, is familiar to most school boys and to some editorial writers:
"Trunk, constituting or belonging to a main body, as opposed to a branch, as a trunk railroad. Trunk line, the main line of a transportation system, as of a railroad or canal."
We are always pleased to give information to those who need it.

ONCE MORE

FOR WANT of a better contention with which to support its candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, the Evening Telegraph reiterates its silly assertion that Miss Leech, the Progressive candidate, is doing a very discommending thing in making the race against Miss McCall. It assumes that Miss Leech has "no right" to be a candidate, and that she is doing so "merely to help defeat a sister teacher." This is true only in the sense that any person who becomes a candidate for a public office does so to defeat somebody else and thereby win the office for himself or herself—but it is not true in any other sense.
One would think from the Telegraph's attitude that the job of Superintendent of Schools in this county belongs to Miss McCall by Divine Right, and that it is worse than presumptuous—yea, an act of treason, or lese majeste—for anybody else to aspire to it. Fortunately, though, most of us have a saving sense of humor which will forestall this conclusion. The office of County Superintendent belongs to whoever can win it by getting a plurality of the votes cast in the coming election. The time is past in El Paso County when any candidate can assume proprietorship over an office, or over the right to aspire to one merely because he or she has received the O. K. of a discredited political gang and its newspaper organ.
Miss Leech, Miss McCall and Miss Stark entered the race at about the same time last spring, the first two for the Republican nomination and Miss Stark for the Democratic nomination. The Telegraph assumes that when Miss Leech did the customary courteous thing in congratulating Miss McCall on her victory in the primaries, it was equivalent to a promise that she would not again enter the race. Of course this is merely a case of the wish being father to the thought, for the Telegraph knows—just as everybody else knows—that Miss Leech will probably win the election, whereas if she were not a candidate Miss McCall would have a fighting chance.
We have not previously brought Miss McCall's name into the discussion of this matter, because the relative unimportance of her candidacy does not justify it. Like the national contest, it is wholly a race between the Progressive and Democratic candidates, with the Republican aspirant in the role of looker-on. But in view of the Telegraph's reiterated contention that it is an impertinence for anybody else to oppose her, it is well that the facts be stated plainly.
THE HUMANITARIAN PLANK
CONSIDERABLE comment has been aroused, especially among the industrial classes, concerning the sneers of Professor Wilson in his recent Denver speech directed to the humanitarian planks of the Progressive platform. Professor Wilson declared that they were made to please the trusts and not to harm them, and in a way indicated his belief that they contained too much sentiment and too little of practical politics. The Pittsburgh Leader, in a recent statement, red-baited from the point of

editor's pencil, calls Professor Wilson in the following vigorous language:
"Wilson and his Democratic party sneer at the humanitarian program of the Progressives, which holds that democracy itself is humanitarian and that democracy cannot exist through the spell of names while men, women and children are slaves. Wilson and his Democratic party once sneered at the slavery of the black man, woman and child.
"Today it has become advanced enough to sneer at the slavery, and the manhood of white men, the womanhood of white women and the childhood of toiling children."
"The candidate and the party that once stood for the slavery of the black man, woman and child, today sees only something at which to sneer in the humanitarian program of the Progressive party that attacks slavery in every form, social, industrial and economic."
"The humanitarian program of the Progressives is that part in which it has the greatest pride.
"It is the program of man against money. The human body against the dollar. THE SOUL OF THE AMERICAN WORKING-MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD AGAINST THE MACHINE OF THE SHOP, MILL AND FACTORY."

PROGRESSIVES TO BE CONGRATULATED
To the Editor of The Gazette:
The Progressives are to be congratulated upon the reports which come from every portion of the state, inspiring the hope for a sweeping victory in November. My view of the political situation is that the fight is virtually between the Progressives and the Democrats, with strong symptoms in favor of the former, and that the dastardly attempt to kill our gallant leader will not hurt the Progressive cause, and that it may win at the coming election should be the devout wish of every voter desiring the highest prosperity of his country. I was one of the millions of sufferers from the baneful effects of the last Democratic administration, and hope the country will be spared a repetition of its policies. I speak now only of their destructive effects upon the business of the country.
In 1894 I was in the stock ranching business in Hamilton county, Texas, my chief stock investment being in sheep. I was a producer of free raw material, and, referring to my journal of that date, I find I sold my year's clip of 28,646 pounds at 8 1/2 cents per pound.
As soon as possible after the news of Cleveland's election was flashed over the world, Boston harbor was crowded with ships freighted with wool imported from countries possessing superior advantages in the way of cheap grazing and cheap labor, and my wool, with long staple and fine quality, strictly first-class merino, was sold to a fourth or fifth-class factory in Waco, Tex., at the above price.
Texas is very largely a Democratic state, but many a Democrat turned his back on the policies of the administration at that time.
Manitou, October 23. A. S. BOYNTON.

SOME QUESTIONS
To the Editor of The Gazette:
Will you print in your Open Parliament, the following questions, directed to Judge W. C. Robinson, candidate for state senator in this district?
"Dear Judge: Are you willing to tell the people of this district upon which platform, both state and national, you are running and will support?"
"Are you supporting Mr. Taft or Mr. Roosevelt?"
"Is it not a fact that, when you secured your endorsement by the Progressive party, you pledged your support to Mr. Roosevelt?"
"You have stated publicly that you will not support Mr. Guggenheim, who is not, and who you knew was not, a candidate for United States senator, but, to date, you have failed to say or to tell the people of this district who you would support in the event of your election. Neither have you signed either pledge to the people as provided in the primary law."
"If elected, will you support Mr. Dawson and Mr. Western or Mr. Stevens and Mr. Catlin or Governor Thomas and Governor Shafer for the position of United States senator?"
"If elected, will you vote for the man who receives the largest number of the people's votes?"
"Are you willing to trust the people to elect their United States senators, and will you vote to ratify the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, giving them this power?"
"Are you willing to tell the voters of this senatorial district whether you are a Republican or a Progressive?"
"In your campaign you have stated that you will not accept free transportation, but you have not stated that you would use your influence to secure the passage of anti-pass legislation. If elected, will you vote and work for an anti-pass law?"
"Are you willing to state publicly that, during the time for which you are elected to the state senate, you will not accept a retainer fee, either directly or indirectly, from any person or corporation who might be interested in special legislation?"
Yours truly,
MARK A. SKINNER.
Colorado Springs, October 23.

IN THE BALKAN PENINSULA.
From the Kansas City Star.
If England hadn't put its money on the wrong horse in 1878, as Lord Salisbury afterwards expressed it, the Balkan peoples since that time might have been among those blessed nations that have no history. But in that year Disraeli intervened to save Turkey from the disastrous consequences of its defeat by Russia. Bismarck offered his services as "the honest broker" and the unstable Turkish empire was patched up by the treaty of Berlin, to the misery of its unfortunate European subjects.
At the end of the Russo-Turkish war Russia acquired Turkey of most of its European possessions and erected a Big Bulgaria, as the dominant state of the peninsula. England, however, had a tradition that its route to India must never be threatened by a great power at Constantinople. It was part of British policy to maintain Turkish control in the neighborhood of the Suez canal. Big Bulgaria, Disraeli assumed, would be a natural ally of Russia and would mean the speedy seizure of Constantinople by the czar.
So Bismarck called the congress of Berlin, which tore up the treaty of San Stefano and gave back to Turkey the rest of its European possessions, but essentially Asiatic power controls a slice of Europe about as large as Missouri, and excluding Constantinople with a not much larger population. And such a population as it has—Greeks, Jews, Bulgarians, all are mixed to a real rebel. Bulgarians, Serians, Albanians, Greeks, Jews, Turks, Serbians, their separate institutions.

For such a mixture of peoples no more unified ruler could be found. Turkish rule is something that is not comprehended in the United States. The cruelty of the middle ages is foreign to all modern experience, and Turkey embodies the middle ages characteristics. Within the last 20 years there have been repeated massacres within the empire—massacres of women and children of an atrocity that is inconceivable at the distance. Repeatedly, too, there have been insurrections against Turkish rule.
When the Young Turks came through their revolution four years ago and established the constitution, it was hoped that a new day had dawned for the unfortunate people of European Turkey. But gradually these hopes faded. The ideal of the Young Turks has proved to be a highly centralized military power, rather than of a reformed administration seeking the cooperation of the different races within the empire.
Meanwhile, the people of the five kingdoms of Bulgaria, Serbia, Montenegro and Greece have become increasingly incensed over the treatment of their kin under Turkish domination. Reforms repeatedly promised have not materialized. Albania—a mountainous region of western Turkey—has been in revolt, passions have been aroused and all of the Balkan peninsula has been aflame.
If experience is worth anything in southeastern Europe, there never will be permanent peace there until the Turks shall have been driven back into Asia.

WHAT SHALL THE $15,000,000 BATTLESHIP BE NAMED?

From the New York Sun.
In a letter to the Army and Navy Journal, Dr. William Barry Meany of Washington proposes that the $15,000,000 battleship authorized by congress before adjournment shall be called the United States. He says:
"Our forefathers christened the first launched of these six renowned fighting frigates, our first line of battleships under the present organization of the navy, the United States. This frigate (the flagship of the fleet), 44 guns, was launched July 10, 1797, at Philadelphia."
In those days our great ships usually bore names that filled the ear and aroused the pride of every citizen. The other frigates of that famous fleet were the Constitution, the Constellation, the Congress, the President and the Chesapeake. In this period of superdreadnought competition those states whose names have not been given to armored cruisers take turns in the honor of having battleships named after them, and it has happened that the state with the smallest population in the Union, Nevada, is or will be, represented in the navy by a 27,000-ton leviathan, of which it has been said that when commissioned she will probably be superior to any ship afloat except her sister, the Oklahoma, in gun power and in power of endurance in battle.
Under the rule Arizona and New Mexico seem to have the privilege of claiming state honors, but there would seem to be an inappropriateness in calling a 30,000-ton ship armed with 14-inch guns the New Mexico. The time is nearly ripe for making an exception to the rule. Unless England or Germany in their feverish competition finishes a superdreadnought before the $15,000,000 warship authorized by congress is commissioned to fly the flag the name United States, would admirably suit the powerful sea fighter that is intended to be the latest "word" in battleship construction.

The Big Little Things

By RUTH CAMERON.

How very, very large are the little things of life! We were talking the other day about a woman who had carried herself wonderfully through a terrible ordeal of threatened disgrace, and then had utterly failed in her endeavor, and then had utterly failed in her endeavor, and then had utterly failed in her endeavor.

They are big enough for the big things, but not for the little things.
And yet after all who can blame them? For who does not know how very, very large are the little things of life?
How the little annoyances sting us! How the little disappointments seem like life tragedies! How the little temptations to temper and injustice and unreasonableness overcome us! How childishly we give in to the little weaknesses!
"The little bits of life," says Thackeray in one of those wonderful asides that are half the charm of his books, "are the hardest to bear, as we all very well know. What would the possession of one hundred thousand a year, or fame and the applause of our countrymen, or the love and the best beloved woman of any clime and happiness or good fortune, avail to a gentleman, for instance, who was allowed to enjoy them only with the condition of wearing a shoe with a couple of nails or sharp pebbles inside of it? All fame and happiness would disappear and plunge down in that shoe. All life would revolve around those little nails."
When a lover in the ecstasy of the wonderful passion says to his beloved, "I would be willing to die for you," she thinks she has expressed the acme of devotion, and only realizes that there is something bigger than being able to make one big sacrifice when she finds that he is not willing to live for her in other words, that he is not big enough for the little things.
"Help me this day to be big enough for the little things."
How is that for a morning prayer?

MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON AT ELECTION NOV. 5

In order that the voters of El Paso county may familiarize themselves with the proposed laws and amendments to be voted on at the general election November 5, The Gazette intends each day to publish a brief abstract of one of the proposed measures, until the entire 32 have been set forth.
The bond bill is the twentieth on the ballot. It transfers the brand department from the office of secretary of state to the state board of stock inspection commissioners. At present, all matters pertaining to the branding of live stock are conducted in the office of the secretary of state. The last assembly amended that law, giving this work to the stock inspection board. It meant the loss of a goodly amount of patronage to the secretary of state, hence the employees in that office circulated a petition and had it referred.
It is one of the most insignificant measures, so far as the people are concerned, that could be imagined. It certainly makes little difference which set of men shall appoint the clerks to care for this work.

Corn Husking

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Corn husking is a national game which begins about the time baseball batters out and continues until the blizzard season. It produces the same depressing results to the fingers as baseball does, but as a dividend producer it is about a thousand times more effective.
Corn husking is not a college diversion, but has sent thousands of boys to college and has given them their smelly wrists with which to grasp the flying halfback by the spinal column and check him in his mad career. Corn husking cannot be played in a stadium or amphitheater. It requires as much room as golf. A 50-acre field will keep 100 golfers busy for years, but a 100-acre field will only last two expert corn huskers for a few weeks.
Corn husking is the most valuable exercise in America. Corn that hasn't been husked is as valueless as a Salome dancer in street clothes. Hundreds of throbbing geniuses have spent their lives in trying to invent a machine, which will deftly remove a ear of corn from its garments and put it into a wagon, but the only entirely reliable machine of this sort in use is the farmer boy who does at 4 a. m. and grasps 100 bushels of corn ears firmly between his aching thumb and forefinger before the sun goes down.

"Can keep three ears in the air right along."

The rules of corn husking are very simple. The husker arms himself with a pair of large mittens, with armored thumbs and follows a wagon across a corn field denuding two rows of stalks as he goes and trying to keep the horses from eating themselves to death while waiting for him. The wagon keeps moving all day long, and if the husker is beside it at night he wins. If he doesn't, the wagon wins. It is a very exciting game, but not suitable for delicate young athletes with fragile, manicured fingers. Many a man who can follow a golf ball all day long with the calm tenacity of a foxhound following an antelope and bag has retired from a husking game at noon with a low moan and a bunch of desiccated digits.

There are many husking experts who can keep three ears in the air right along and can husk 200 bushels of corn into a wagon in 10 hours, only missing it occasionally. A man who can do this is more useful to humanity than the man who can husk 200 spit balls per day without shooting thousands or the daredevil who can travel 200 miles in an hour on a motorcycle in the last stages of hydrophobia. There are 4,000,000,000 bushels of corn to be huskied and husked in this country each fall, and only a few million red-necked and horny fingered farmers stand between us and ruin.

CHINESE CONGRESS DISCUSSES DRESS

From the Berliner Tageblatt.
Ten sessions of the new Republican congress in Peking have been devoted to the question of dress. One whole day was given over to the trying on of hats, and all possible and impossible fashions of men's and women's clothing were displayed and examined. The results of this painstaking investigation may be gathered from the following resume of the laws passed:
1. All Chinese officials without any distinction of rank shall wear European clothing. This shall consist of black walking coat, top hat of Chinese silk and patent leather shoes. No ornament is made of trousers. On ordinary occasions a derby hat may be worn.
2. Nonoffice holding persons shall also dress as above on festivals.
3. Those belonging to the military, police and to the judicial and student bodies shall wear the prescribed uniforms.
4. Women shall wear European hats, but otherwise retain their customary dress with certain modifications.
The etiquette of greetings was defined as follows: Ordinary greeting, hat off, bow once; official greeting, hat off, bow three times. Women keep their hats on.

The name "Hardy's" on gift is recognized as a guarantee of quality and artistic excellence.

THE HASKIN LETTER

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS XIII—THE RISE OF THE WHIGS.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

There were many events in the election of 1836, when Van Buren won out against a whole field of candidates, which may yet find a parallel in the presidential of 1912. It has been suggested by some that if Roosevelt and Taft together poll more votes than Wilson, and if a combination of their electors should represent a majority in the electoral college, some way may yet be found to bring that majority to the support of the one or the other before the electoral colleges meet and vote in January. However, this may be, that was one of the ideas that animated the opposition to Van Buren in 1836. Divers and sundry factions were opposed to Jackson, and to his method of picking his successor, factions which could not find any platform upon which they could all unite, but which were willing to fight in a common cause provided they could fight independently. In this opposition there were antislavery, the protective tariff men, the States Rights, the anti-Jacksonites, and the remnants of other "isms."
Tennessee nominated Senator Hugh L. White, erstwhile the intimate friend of Jackson, but no rank "traitor," because he would not fall in with Jackson's plans to have Van Buren succeed to the presidency. With South Carolina determined not to vote for any candidate that had a ghost of a show, it was felt that the aggregate vote of the opposition might be enough to prevent the success of Van Buren.

OFF THE MAIN LINE

IN AN editorial purporting to discuss the subject of good roads the Telegraph remarks:

"Roads should be built like railroads, with main and trunk lines. Once the main line is established and in good condition, the work of building trunk lines may be begun. Trunk line after trunk line may be built, etc."

The following definition of a trunk line, from the Standard Dictionary, is familiar to most school boys and to some editorial writers:

"Trunk, constituting or belonging to a main body, as opposed to a branch; as, a trunk railroad. Trunk line, the main line of a transportation system, as of a railroad or canal."

We are always pleased to give information to those who need it.

ONCE MORE

FOR WANT of a better contention with which to support its candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, the Evening Telegraph reiterates its silly assertion that Miss Leech, the Progressive candidate, is doing a very discourteous thing in making the race against Miss McCall. It assumes that Miss Leech has "no right" to be a candidate, and that she is doing so "merely to help defeat a sister teacher." This is true only in the sense that any person who becomes a candidate for a public office does so to defeat somebody else and thereby win the office for himself or herself—but it is not true in any other sense.

One would think from the Telegraph's attitude that the job of Superintendent of Schools in this county belongs to Miss McCall by Divine Right, and that it is worse than presumptuous—yes, an act of treason, or lese majeste—for anybody else to aspire to it. Fortunately, though, most of us have a saving sense of humor which will forestall this conclusion. The office of County Superintendent belongs to whoever can win it by getting a plurality of the votes cast in the coming election. The time is past in El Paso County when any candidate can assume proprietorship over an office, or over the right to aspire to one merely because he or she has received the O. K. of a discredited political gang and its newspaper organ.

Miss Leech, Miss McCall and Miss Stark entered the race at about the same time last spring, the first two for the Republican nomination and Miss Stark for the Democratic nomination. The Telegraph assumes that when Miss Leech did the customary courteous thing in congratulating Miss McCall on her victory in the primaries, it was equivalent to a promise that she would not again enter the race. Of course this is merely a case of the wish being father to the thought, for the Telegraph knows—just as everybody else knows—that Miss Leech will probably win the election, whereas if she were not a candidate Miss McCall would have a fighting chance.

We have not previously brought Miss McCall's name into the discussion of this matter, because the relative unimportance of her candidacy does not justify it. Like the national contest, it is wholly a race between the Progressive and Democratic candidates, with the Republican aspirant in the role of looker-on. But in view of the Telegraph's reiterated contention that it is an impertinence for anybody else to oppose her, it is well that the facts be stated plainly.

THE HUMANITARIAN PLANK

CONSIDERABLE comment has been aroused, especially among the industrial classes, concerning the sneers of Professor Wilson in his recent Denver speech directed to the humanitarian planks of the Progressive platform. Professor Wilson declared that they were made to please the trusts and not to harm them, and in a way indicated his belief that they contained too much sentiment and too little of practical politics. The Pittsburg Leader, in a recent statement, red-hot from the point of the

editor's pencil, calls Professor Wilson in the following vigorous language:

"Wilson and his Democratic party sneer at the humanitarian program of the Progressives, which holds that democracy itself is humanitarian and that democracy cannot exist through the spell of names—white men, women and children are slaves. Wilson and his Democratic party once sneered at the slavery of the black man, woman and child."

"Today it has become advanced enough to sneer at the slavery, and the manhood of white men, the womanhood of white women and the childhood of toiling children."

"The candidate and the party that once stood for the slavery of the black man, woman and child, today sees only something at which to sneer in the humanitarian program of the Progressive party that attacks slavery in every form, social, industrial and economic."

"The humanitarian program of the Progressives is that part in which it has the greatest pride."

"It is the program of man against money. The human body against the dollar. THE SOUL OF THE AMERICAN WORKING-MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD AGAINST THE MACHINE OF THE SHOP, MILL AND FACTORY."

PROGRESSIVES TO BE CONGRATULATED

To the Editor of The Gazette:
The Progressives are to be congratulated upon the reports which come from every portion of the state, inspiring the hope for a sweeping victory in November. My view of the political situation is that the fight is virtually between the Progressives and the Democrats, with strong symptoms in favor of the former, and that the dastardly attempt to kill our gallant leader will not hurt the Progressive cause, and that it may win at the coming election should be the devout wish of every voter desiring the highest prosperity of his country. I was one of the millions of sufferers from the baneful effects of the last Democratic administration, and hope the country will be spared a repetition of its policies. I speak now only of their destructive effects upon the business of the country.

In 1894-1 was in the stock ranching business in Hamilton county, Texas, my chief stock investment being in sheep. I was a producer of free raw material, and, referring to my journal of that date, I find I sold my year's clip of 28,546 pounds at 84 cents per pound.

As soon as possible after the news of Cleveland's election was flashed over the world, Boston harbor was crowded with ships freighted with wool imported from countries possessing superior advantages in the way of cheap grazing and cheap labor, and my wool, with long staple and fine quality, strictly first-class, was sold at a fourth or fifth-class factory in Waco, Tex., at the above price.

Texas is very largely a Democratic state, but when a Democrat turned his back on the policies of the administration at that time.

SOME QUESTIONS

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Will you print in your Open Parliament, the following questions, directed to Judge W. C. Robinson, candidate for state senator in this district?

"Dear Judge—Are you willing to tell the people of this district upon which platform, both state and national, you are running, and will support?"

"Are you supporting Mr. Taft or Mr. Roosevelt?"

"Is it not a fact that, when you secured your endorsement by the Progressive party, you pledged your support to Mr. Roosevelt?"

"You have stated publicly that you will not support Mr. Guggenheim, who is not, and who you know was not, a candidate for United States senator, but, so far, you have failed to say or to tell the people of this district who you would support in the event of his election. Neither have you signed either pledge to the people as provided in the primary law."

"If elected, will you support Mr. Dawson and Mr. Westerman or Mr. Stevens and Mr. Catlin or Governor Thomas and Governor Shafroth for the position of United States senator?"

"If elected, will you vote for the man who receives the largest number of the people's votes?"

"Are you willing to trust the people to elect their United States senators, and will you vote to ratify the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, giving them this power?"

"Are you willing to tell the voters of this senatorial district whether you are a Republican or a Progressive?"

"In your campaign you have stated that you will not accept free transportation, but you have not stated that you would use your influence to secure the passage of anti-pass legislation. If elected, will you vote and work for an anti-pass law?"

"Are you willing to state publicly that, during the time for which you are elected to the state senate, you will not accept a retainer fee, either directly or indirectly, from any person or corporation who might be interested in special legislation?"

Yours truly,
MARK A. SKINNER

IN THE BALKAN PENINSULA.

From the Kansas City Star.
If England hadn't put its money on the wrong horse in 1878, as Lord Salisbury afterwards expressed it, the Balkan peoples since that time might have been among those blessed nations that have no history. But, in that year, Disraeli intervened to save Turkey from the disastrous consequences of its defeat by Russia. Bismarck offered his services as "the honest broker" and the unstable Turkish empire was patched up by the treaty of Berlin, to the misery of its unfortunate European subjects.

At the end of the Russo-Turkish war, Russia negotiated the treaty of San Stefano which deprived Turkey of most of its European possessions and erected a Big Bulgaria, as the dominant state of the peninsula. England, however, had a tradition that its route to India must not be threatened by a great power at Constantinople. It was part of British policy to maintain Turkish control in the neighborhood of the Suez canal. Big Bulgaria, Disraeli assumed, would be a natural ally of Russia and would mean the speedy seizure of Constantinople by the czar.

So Bismarck called the congress of Berlin, which tore up the treaty of San Stefano and gave back unhappy Macedonia to Turkey. In consequence, that essentially Asiatic power retained a slice of Europe as large as Missouri, and excluding Constantinople, with a not much larger population, and such a population as it is. Language, race, religions, all are mixed in a real Babel. Bulgarians, Servians, Albanians, Greeks, Jews, Turks, cherish their separate institutions.

For such a mixture of peoples to move under one ruler could be found. Turkish rule is something that is not comprehended in the United States. The cruelty of the middle ages is foreign to all modern experience, and Turkey embodies the middle age character. Within the last 20 years there have been repeated massacres within the empire—massacres of women and children of an atrocity that is inconceivable at this distance. Repeatedly, too, there have been insurrections against Turkish misrule. When the Young Turks carried through their revolution four years ago and established the constitution, it was hoped that a new day had dawned for the unfortunate peoples of European Turkey. But gradually these hopes faded. The ideal of the Young Turks has proved to be that of a highly centralized military power, rather than of a reformed administration seeking the cooperation of the different races within the empire.

Meanwhile the people of the free kingdoms of Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro and Greece have become increasingly incensed over the treatment of their kin under Turkish domination. Reforms repeatedly promised have not materialized. Albania, a mountainous region of western Turkey—has been in revolt, passions have been aroused and all of the Balkan peninsula has been aflame.

It is experience is worth anything in southeastern Europe, there never will be permanent peace there until the Turks shall have been driven back into Asia.

WHAT SHALL THE $15,000,000 BATTLESHIP BE NAMED?

From the New York Sun.
In a letter to the Army and Navy Journal, Dr. William Barry Meany of Washington proposes that the $15,000,000 battleship authorized by congress before adjournment shall be called the "United States." He says:

"Our forefathers christened the first launched of those six renowned fighting frigates, our first line of battleships under the present organization of the navy, the United States. This frigate (the flagship of the fleet), 44 guns, was launched July 19, 1776, at Philadelphia."

In those days our great ships usually bore names that filled the ear and aroused the pride of every citizen. The other frigates of that famous fleet were the Constitution, the Constellation, the Congress, the President and the Chesapeake. In this period of superdreadnought competition those states whose names have not been given to armored cruisers take turns in the honor of having battleships named after them, and it has happened that the state with the smallest population in the Union, Nevada, is, or will be, represented in the navy by a 27,000-ton levitation, of which it has been said that when commissioned she will probably be superior to any ship afloat except her sister, the Oklahoma, in gun power and in power of endurance in battle.

Under the rule Arizona and New Mexico seem to have the privilege of claiming state honors, but there would seem to be an inappropriateness in calling a 30,000-ton ship armed with 14-inch guns the New Mexico. The time is nearly ripe for making an exception to the rule. Unless England or Germany in their feverish competition finishes a superlative dreadnought before the $15,000,000 warship authorized by congress is commissioned to fly the flag the name United States would admirably suit the powerful sea fighter that is intended to be the latest "word" in battleship construction.

The Big Little Things

By RUTH CAMERON.

How very, very large are the little things of life! We were talking the other day about a woman who had carried herself wonderfully through a terrible ordeal of threatened disgrace, and then had utterly failed in forbearance and eagerness towards a thoughtless but repentant friend, and some one said:

"She is one of those people who are splendid when there is any big occasion to be met but failures in the little relations of life."

Let some big trial, some great test demand their energies, and they immediately rise to the height of the need. But when the great moment is past, and there is a case of enduring and forcing the little pin pricks of everyday life, they fail miserably.

They are big enough for the big things but not for the little things.

And yet after all who can blame them? For who does not know how very, very large are the little things of life?

How the little annoyances sting us! How the little disappointments seem like life tragedies! How the little temptations to temper and injustice and unreasonableness overcome us! How childishly we give in to the little weaknesses!

"The little ills of life," says Thackeray in one of those wonderful fables that are half the charm of his books, "were the hardest to bear, as we all very well know. What would the possession of one hundred thousand a year, or of fame and the applause of our countrymen, or the love and the best beloved woman of any class and of any age, and of any fortune, avail to a centurion, if the condition of wearing a shoe with a couple of nails or sharp pebbles inside of it? All fame and happiness would disappear and plunge down in that shoe. All life would revolve around those little nails."

When a lover in the ecstasy of the wonderful passion says to his beloved, "I would be willing to die for you," she thinks she has expressed the name of devotion, and only realizes that there is something bigger than being able to make one big sacrifice when she finds that he is not willing to live for her in other ways, that he is not big enough for the little things.

Help me this day to be big enough for the little things.

How is that for a morning prayer?

MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON AT ELECTION NOV. 5

In order that the voters of El Paso county may familiarize themselves with the proposed laws and amendments to be voted on at the general election November 5, the Gazette intends as early as possible to publish a brief abstract of one of the proposed measures, until the entire 32 have been set forth.

The brand bill is the twentieth on the ballot. It transfers the brand department from the office of secretary of state to the state board of stock inspection commissioners. At present, all matters pertaining to the branding of live stock are conducted in the office of the secretary of state. The last assembly amended that law, giving this work to the stock inspection board. It meant the loss of a pretty amount of patronage to the secretary of state, hence the employees in that office circulated a petition and had it referred.

It is one of the most insignificant measures, so far as the people are concerned, that could be imagined. It certainly makes little difference which set of men shall appoint the clerks to care for this work.

Corn Husking

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

Corn husking is a national game which begins about the time baseball peters out and continues until the blizzard season. It produces the same distressing results to the fingers as baseball does, but as a dividend producer it is about a thousand times more efficient.

Corn husking is not a college diversion, but has sent thousands of boys to college and has given them their spiny wrists, with which to grasp the flying halfback by the spinal column and check him in his mad career. Corn husking cannot be played in a stadium or amphitheater. It requires as much room as golf. A 40-acre field, will keep 100 golfers busy for years, but a 100-acre field will only last two expert corn huskers for a few weeks.

Corn husking is the most valuable exercise in America. Corn that hasn't been husked is as valueless as a saloon dancer in street clothes. Hundreds of throbbing geniuses have spent their lives in trying to invent a machine which will deftly remove an ear of corn from its garments and toss it into a wagon, but the only entirely reliable machine of this sort in use is the farmer boy who rises at 4 a. m. and grasps 100 bushels of corn ears firmly between his arched thumb and forefinger before the sun goes down.

The rules of corn husking are very simple. The husker arms himself with a big, heavy, large, military with armored thumb, and follows a wagon across a corn field denuding two rows of stalks as he goes and trying to keep the horses from eating themselves to death while waiting for him. The wagon keeps moving all day long and if the husker is beside it at night he wins. If he doesn't, the wagon wins. It is a very exciting game, but not suitable for delicate young athletes with fragile, manicured fingers. Many a man who can follow a golf ball all day long with the grim tenacity of a foxhound following an elusive seed bag has retired from a husking game at noon with a low mean and a bunch of desiccated digits.

There are many husking experts who can keep three ears in the air right along and can husk 200 bushels of corn into a wagon in 10 hours, only missing it occasionally. A man who can do this is more useful to humanity than the man who can husk 200 spit balls per day before shouting thousands or the daredevil who can travel 200 miles an hour on a motorcycle in the last stages of hydrophobia. There are 4,000,000,000 bushels of corn to be husked and husked in this country each fall, and only a few million red-necked and horny fingered farmer boys stand between us and ruin.

CHINESE CONGRESS DISCUSSES DRESS

From the Berliner Tageblatt.
Ten sessions of the new Republican congress in Peking have been devoted to the question of dress. One whole day was given over to the trying on of hats, and all possible and impossible fashions of men's and women's clothing were displayed and examined. The results of this painstaking investigation may be gathered from the following resume of the laws passed:

1. All Chinese officials without any distinction of rank shall wear European dress. This shall consist of black walking coat, top hat of Chinese silk and patent leather shoes. No moccasins or a derby hat may be worn.
2. Nonofficial holding persons shall also dress as above on festivals.
3. Those belonging to the military, police and to the judicial and student bodies shall wear the prescribed uniforms.
4. Women shall wear European hats, but otherwise retain their customary dress with certain modifications.

The etiquette of greetings was defined as follows: ordinary greeting, but off, bow once, official greeting, but off, bow three times. Women keep their hats on.

The name "Hardy's" on gift is recognized as a guarantee of quality and artistic excellence.

It costs no more.

THE HASKIN LETTER

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS
XIII—THE RISE OF THE WHIGS.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

There were many events in the election of 1892, when Van Buren won out against a whole field of candidates, which may yet find a parallel in the presidential of 1912. It has been suggested by some that if Roosevelt and Wilson, together poll more votes than Van Buren, should if a combination of their electoral college, some way may yet be found to bring that majority to the support of the one or the other, before the electoral colleges meet and vote in January. However this may be, that was one of the ideas that animated the opposition to Van Buren in 1892. Divers and sundry factions were opposed to Jackson and to his method of picking his successor, factions which could not find any platform upon which they could all unite, but which were willing to fight in a common cause provided they could fight independently. In this opposition there were antislavery, the protective tariff, men the States Rights, the anti-Jacksonites, and the remnants of other "isms."

Column, Tennessee nominated Senator Hugh L. White, erstwhile the intimate friend of Jackson, but no a rank "traitor," because he would not fall in with Jackson's plans to have Van Buren succeed to the presidency. With South Carolina determined not to vote for any candidate that had a ghost of a show, it was felt that the aggregate vote of the opposition might be enough to prevent the success of Van Buren.

Jackson Favored Van Buren. Jackson's determination to have Buren succeed him was silly, but even went so far, it is said, as to contemplate the advisability of resigning in order that Vice President Buren might become president by route. But if he did think these he thought afterward that he had Van Buren better while he was still in the presidential chair. Tennessee got into the game early nominating Senator White. Its legislature, in the face of the hardest sun Jackson could bring to bear on its members, nominated White, vote that looked but (so of course) that when the vote was counted Jackson had come to charges against White printed in organ, the Washington Globe.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

OCT. PRODUCTION IS HEAVIER THAN SEPT.

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 23.—The October production of the Cripple Creek mines has been estimated at this time, will run over the September output, both in tons and in value. The work has been very satisfactory this month in all of the mines and the mills have been treating to capacity.

There have been several good strikes made during that time.

The Portland mill will handle more than 15,000 tons, it is estimated, since the average daily tonnage so far has been more than 500 tons. Besides the Blue Flag and the Auburn mills will have a few tons to their credit this month. The Stratton-Independence is handling more than 10,000 and close to 11,000 tons a month.

The Kavanagh, Mayfield and Wild Horse mills are treating their quota of ore arising from the high extraction in each plant. The high extraction is being made. They use the cyanide process exclusively.

The three large mills of the district—Portland, Stratton-Independence and Auburn—have a total capacity of about 1,000 tons a day.

The tons to go to the city plant will be found to be in excess of last month when the final completion is made.

BLUE FLAG MILL NOW IN FULL OPERATION

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 23.—J. E. Erlman, president and general manager of the Blue Flag Mining and Milling company, is in the district from Denver, looking after company interests.

The company's new mill has been in operation a week or so since starting up, following the installation of the transformer station, which permitted giving a full quota of power for the motors of the plant. About 125-horse power is consumed at this time in propelling the mill.

The Blue Flag mill is one of the largest in the district and uses a modern process. It is anticipated that a cleanup will be made shortly.

The usual amount of work, it is understood, is being done in the mine and a fair grade of ore is being hoisted and put through the mill.

SHIPMENTS BEING MADE FROM THE FOREST QUEEN

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 23.—Sub-lessee W. L. Shaffer shipped a car of ore from the Forest Queen mine yesterday and it is expected that six or seven cars will be the total to be sent out during the balance of the month. The ore is said to be of a smelting grade. It is mined between the fifth and sixth levels. The mine is in excellent physical shape, and it is declared that it will soon resume its former place as a shipper.

John Connors is the main lessee.

SEVERAL MACHINES WORKING ON DEVELOPMENT MODOC

Special to The Gazette.
CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 23.—The Modoc company, as well as some lessees working in this property, are getting out ore at this time, and the production runs as usual as it has at any time in the last few months.

The company is working several machines on development on the ninth level.

The lessees have three machines running and drifting for ore.
